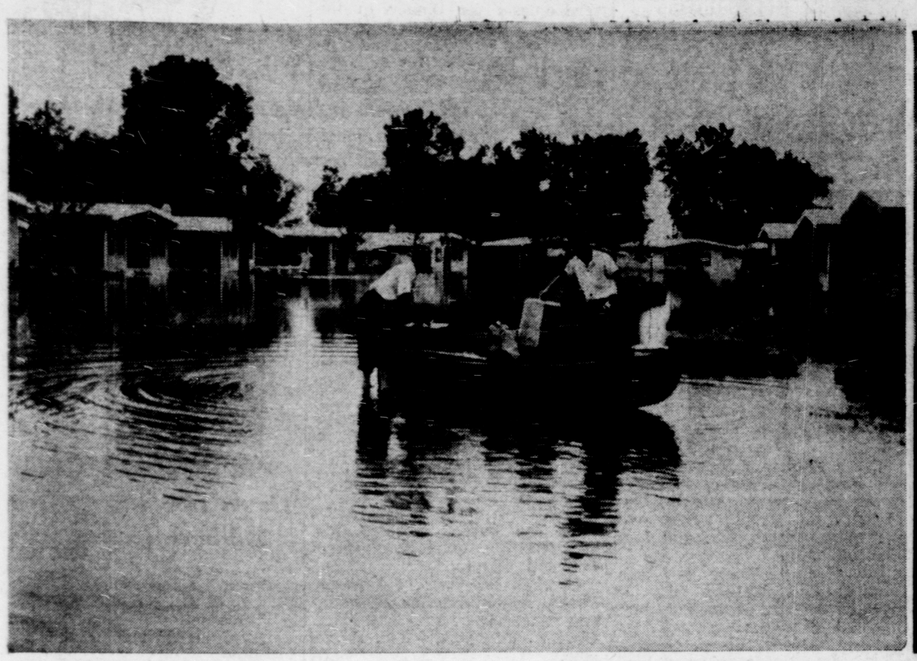
Area's Worst Rains Swamp Suburbs



RISING WATERS in Meadowbrook, a Wheeling subdivision, forced Arthur Nimmer and his son John to hastily toss a few belongings into a suitcase and leave home. Wheeling was site of worst flooding in the northwest area.

FLOODED CAMPBELL ST. emptied its surplus water into Hagenbring's dry goods store hour after hour Friday night as neighbors manned brooms and mops in an attempt to beat back the "sea."

WATER THAT COVERED Wolf rd. in Wheeling to a depth of 10 inches made it impossible for the mailman to make his rounds but apparently Alvin Nelson and a neighbor wanted to see if the water had reached to the inside of their mailboxes Friday night.

Arlington Heights Reels From Its 'Worst Floods'

TOWING MEN did a land-office business hauling cars out of ditches over the weekend. This car went over the side Saturday morning near Rand and Palatine rds., north of Palatine.

Slimy Water Hits Homes, Business

Water seeped through walls, bubbled up from laundry tub and floor drains, cascaded down stairways and poured through windows and window wells Friday night in Arlington Heights' worst flooding in recollection.

Merchants and householders were still reckoning their losses early this week. Damage was sure to mount into hundreds of thousands of dollars, with basements in every corner of the village receiving from inches to 8 and 9 feet of slimy water.

VILLAGE DUMP trucks Monday began to collect curbside piles of soaked and smelly furniture and goods. By noon Monday, the trucks had already dumped half a dozen loads of rubbish and later collections would at least triple that amount.

Dollar-wise, the most damage probably occurred on Campbell st. in the downtown business district. Vern Hagenbring estimated the value of damage at his dry goods firm at $4,000 or more, much of it to toys and goods put away for the Christmas trade. Cleanup crews also toiled through the weekend at the A & P supermarket across the street.

Hagenbring's sewers did not back up, as did many. But flooded Campbell st. emptied its contents through his front door for hours. He credited 2 young neighbors, Bill and Ron Jonas, with preventing worse damage.

"THOSE BOYS swung mops up until 3 a.m. Saturday," he said. "Their help and that of others gave me a wonderful feeling."

Just that sort of good-neighborliness was exhibited in all quarters of town.

A woman popped her head into a kerosene-lamplit kitchen Saturday night at the home of Cliff Henjum, 6 N. Phelps to ask:

"Wouldn't you like to spend the night with us, Cliff?"

Henjum and others in the same block had their basements flooded rafter-high. He and a next-door neighbor were still pumping out their basements at 10 p.m. Saturday despite the best efforts of volunteer firemen and the public works department. It happened that these 2 were among the last to get their turn at the pumps. Lightning that knocked out a transformer, disabling sump pumps, accounted for the conditions.

ONE OF THE neighbors, Mrs. W. A. Syverson of 12 N. Phelps, had a number of paintings (she is an amateur artist) wetted through, while a second, James T. Lambdin, 2 S. Phelps, lifted his piano out of the water's way when it seemed as if the water would keep rising up through the first floor. It didn't.

In other sections of the community others—usually unshaven men in T-shirts or their tired, slightly harried wives—told of laboring most of Friday night in hopeless battles to keep water out.

Westgate and Arlington Park were among the hardest hit subdivisions, according to the amount of trash piled for removal.

N. YALE ST. in Westgate had water ranging from 2 to 4 feet in depth and the basement of one house, owned by John E. Flodin, was reported to have buckled under the pressure.

Here as elsewhere the record high water was particularly irksome to owners of wood-panelled basement recreation rooms.

"I won't know if the paneling will warp until it dries out thoroughly," said George G. Stefani, a pilot living at 204 N. Yale. "I was in the China-Burma-India theater all during World War II and I never saw any rain as heavy as that Friday night."

Another Westgater whose recreation room was inundated expressed a common consolation with the thought that "it could have been a lot worse." He was Richard T. Cahill, 1301 W. Euclid.

VILLAGE OFFICIALS had several warnings to residents after the deluge. Public works superintendent William Luehring reminded parents to keep children off water-covered streets in the event of a repetition.

"Pressure from sewers often blows manhole covers off and fallen wires can electrically charge water to a high degree," Luehring said.

The superintendent advised that residents who obtain water from shallow wells check the purity of their supply. The village water supply was never in danger of contamination, he pointed out, because wells reach to a depth of 1250 feet, far below the strata receiving seepages of surface water.

Another warning pertained to water-soaked appliances.

"Either have a competent repairman check them over before using them or go over the motors with a carbon tetrachlordie fire extinguisher to prevent breakage in the inside windings," advised a local electrician.

Revise Lighting Plan

Revised proposals for the street lighting program for downtown Arlington Heights will be presented at a public hearing at 7:30 tonight in the village hall.

A member of the board of local improvements said some streets included in the original plan will be dropped if the board agrees. Streets to be eliminated are on the border of the central business district, he added. There were many objections to their inclusion in previous hearings.

Northwest Suburbs Dig Out from Flood Slime

Sirens screamed for a civil defense "Operation Alert" Friday morning without so much as causing a break in the conversation in northwest suburbia.

Better if the warning had been needed and emergency measures taken.

For a few hours later the area absorbed its worst blows in decades, not from enemy planes but from angry summer skies just as unfriendly.

A record 6.24 inches of rain were dumped in the Friday night cloudburst, breaking a mark standing since 1885.

Built-up areas took the burden of the licking for in the towns the water had no place to go, with existing sewer facilities inadequate to handle the abundance of water.

IN EVERY town the rare householder was the one who could say "I didn't get any water in my basement." The rest had to wage an unequal battle against the force of gravity with mops and a variety of improvised weapons.

Sump pumps went out of commission as soon as they came under water and then removal of all but the heaviest of things from basements began. But there was no saving costly washers, dryers or home freezers. And when the water at last receded there was the stink that permeated everything and caused runs on lysol and bleach.

Not all merchants told of troubles. Operators of self-service laundries, jammed with brownish clothing and linen, were 4 to 5 days behind in their work.

INSURANCE MEN also bustled about, informing policyholders of the good, or perhaps bad, news about coverage on losses.

Here is a capsule summary of what the flood did in each town:

WHEELING — Scarcely dried out from high water of May 17, folks in newer sections of Wheeling again rolled up their trouser legs Friday. Dunhurst Heights' southern portion received overflow storm drainage, much of it coming from Prospect Heights, and later Meadowbrook got waist-deep water. It was Meadowbrook's first such experience, as the Wheeling drainage ditch did not spill over its banks last time.

More than 50 families were evacuated from homes in both areas by police and firemen and Coast Guardsmen. Emergency housing was prepared but friends and neighbors took in all the homless.

Again Wheeling could claim the dubious honor of being probably the hardest hit community in the Chicago area.

MOUNT PROSPECT — As elsewhere, no one in the village could remember anything as bad as this one. Soggy bags of charcoal piled outside the store and cartloads of limp cartons inside testified to extensive damage to stock at the Jewel Tea supermarket on Northwest hwy.

The store was in the center of a lake extending into fields on the north side of Central rd. Cars were abandoned in front of the store until the highway was closed. Sewers in some places discharged water instead of taking it. Parts of School st., Elmhurst ave. and Prospect ave. were still inches deep Saturday.

An auto accident disabled a police squad car when it was most needed.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—According to reports, as many as 9 out of 10 basements got anywhere from 3 inches to 9 feet of water. Christmas cards and toys stocked in a dry goods store basement were drenched by water dripping from the ceiling. But there is time to order more for the Yule trade, according to owner Vern Hagenbring.

According to a reliable source, a group of east siders saw the water start to pour into their basements, decided to let it pour and whooped it up with an all-night party.

PALATINE — Firemen stood ankle-deep in water while fighting a blaze that destroyed 300 bales of hay valued at $300. Lightning hit a home and 14-year-old Jeffrey Bassett saw "sparks jump at my feet." He was only 2 feet away from a TV set at the time.

The town's Legion-Lion carnival didn't come off as scheduled Friday night and spirits were further dampened when a food stand was toppled. Salt creek meandered all over the southwest quarter of town and the telephone switchboard received 4,000 extra phone calls.

ROLLING MEADOWS — Here many streets were lost under 2 ft. of water but damage was minor compared to that in other towns. This was partly due to the lack of basements in most homes.

In rural areas virtually all highways were closed at one spot or another. By Saturday motorists could follow Northwest hwy. to Chicago and rte. 83 was passable.

Rural Elk Grove school principal Ernest Cavallo groaned when he looked at the floor of his year-old gymnasium Saturday morning. The hardwood had buckled and the floor had the gentle roll of a snowbank.

Millions of dollars worth of damage was incurred by industries in Des Plaines. Benjamin Electric co., located next to swollen Weller creek hasn't yet cleaned up the mess left by 7 feet of water. The entire roof of Butler Brothers gigantic warehouse at Oakton and Wolf collapsed with the weight of accumulated water.

BUT SUBURBANITES didn't reckon the flood as a complete loss. One man looked up from his mop and expressed the thoughts of thousands thusly:

"If my neighbors hadn't pitched in, things could have been a lot worse."

Kind words were directed in particular to firemen, both volunteers and regulars, police and utility repairmen. All worked extra shifts doing anything from pumping out basements to turning off gas lines to rescuing parakeets.

Northern Illinois Gas company said it had received 450 calls in Wheeling township alone by noon Monday, requesting the firm to restore gas service. Some 250 of the calls were from Arlington Heights. In the suburban area the number of calls totaled 13,000 in the same period.

Forty servicemen from other areas were thrown into the fight, with restoration of all service by today expected.

WITH THINGS pretty much back to normal, suburbanites had their ears glued to radio and TV sets, hoping for a warm, sunny weekend.

There's some catching up to do on summer picnics.

Wheeling Democrats Revolt Against Party Leadership

The muddied political waters of Wheeling township Democratic politics churned Tuesday night as a group of party workers met to plan revolt.

Thirty men, including at least half a dozen precinct captains, denounced both the present leadership and the apparent appointment of a successor as township committeeman "over our heads."

The group wants a long-time worker in local politics, James Stavros of Buffalo Grove rd., named as township committeeman in place of Jack Clark of Arlington Heights, who will remain in office until April.

RECENTLY John T. Jarecki, 705 E. Fairview, Arlington Heights, announced at a meeting that he had been appointed to the same job. Mayor Daley, Democratic county chairman, denied that Jarecki, former collector of internal revenue, had been appointed. The denial was made to a Stavros-led band who marched on the Chicago city hall last week.

A move to try to seat Stavros, a 26-year-old farmer and advertising man, as temporary township committeeman, got nowhere as Sheldon Mills, an Arlington Heights attorney, advised against it. But Stavros will be the candidate of the rump group in the April election for committeeman.

Three Rookies Are Added To Arlington Police Force

Three rookies joined the Arlington Heights police force Tuesday, with one more slated to start work soon.

Two of the new men have previous police experience. Thy are George G. Boa, 36, of Rt. 1, box 136, Lake Zurich, and Maurice J. English, 25, of 304 N. Carter, Palatine.

Boa was formerly a policeman in Newport Beach, Calif. and in Evanston. He graduated from Lake Zurich high school, attended Lake Forest college and spent the 4 years in California, according to a relative.

CHIEF SKOOG said English recently resigned from the Cook county sheriff's police. He served with the sheriff's police for nearly half a year. He and his wife have resided in the northwest area for 6 years.

Also donning his badge for the first time was Phillip M. Olszewski, 25, of Rt. 1, box 325B, Arlington Heights. He formerly worked in Des Plaines.

All appointments are for a 1-year probationary period. A fourth man, Floyd W. Cummings, joined the force last month, several days after completing exams given by the village fire and police commission.

WHEN A FIFTH man is hired there will be 15 patrolmen on the local force.

Chief Skoog said the new officers will receive training this week and later attend police schools.

Westgate School to Open On Schedule: Clabaugh

Teachers will move into Arlington Heights new Westgate school late in August as scheduled, even if they have to climb over tools of workmen applying finishing touches, school Supt. R. E. Clabaugh said Monday.

CONSTRUCTION began on the $170,000 school last fall. Clabaugh said progress on the building is "very nearly" up to schedule, despite wintry weather which made access roads impassable at times.

Monday plasterers were putting a final coat on acoustical ceilings, with this part of the project to be completed by the end of the week. At the same moment carpenters were unloading doors, trim and window wall frames.

A WORKMAN said 3 to 4 weeks will be needed to finish the woodworking job. Other jobs still to be done include painting of concrete block walls, laying of floor tile and some electrical and plumbing work. Landscaping has not begun but the superintendent said this could be done quickly once started.

The school stands on a 7-acre site at the southwest corner of Dwyer extended and Grove sts. Builder Leo Reuter, developer of Westgate, donated the site for the school under a village land dedication requirement. This is the first school to be built on a dedicated tract.

CONTAINING 6 classrooms, the school will house pupils from kindergarten through the third grade. It will relieve the pupil crush at south side Park st. school. Pupils from Westgate units 1 and 2 and some nearby west side areas will attend Westgate.

In addition to classrooms plans call for offices for a principal, nurse, secretary and a teachers' lounge. The site provides room for a later expansion of the school.

Dry Clubhouse

Members of the Arlington Heights post of the FW could enjoy a dry club house this week, for which they thanked a local resident who came to their rescue Friday night.

Edwin H. Meyer, 110 S. Walnut, and his son Roger brought 2 of their own pumps to drain out flood waters, preventing serious damage to basement recreation rooms.

Accident at Wilke, Campbell Injures 2

Two persons received minor injuries Friday in a 2-car collision at the intersection of Wilke rd. and Campbell st. A northbound auto driven by John Alesia, 41, Skokie, collided with one driven by Patricia A. Kindler, 16, of 205 W. Miner, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Alesia received a slight concussion while the Kindler girl was treated for arm cuts and a bruised hip.

There were several other auto accidents in the village but no arrests were made and none injured. (AF

Many of us take vitamins during the winter to build up resistance to colds and other winter miseries. But, comes summer, too often our vitamins are stored away with mothballs.

The need for vitamins does not automatically disappear with the season. Summer, with its strenuous outdoor activities and vacation sports consumes our reserves; and the torrid hot spells rob many people of their usual vitality.

Normal appetities wane as the thermometer rises . . . diets often become lop-sided—with further effects on general good health.

Summer is the time to continue taking vitamins to build up resistance for winter months. If you have been taking vitamins, don't stop now! And, if you haven't, why not check with your physician on the advisibility of beginning now. Let him also suggest the formula that is best for you and for your children.

We at LOHR'S feature a full selection of nationally known vitamins from makers of the highest ethical and pharmaceutical standards.

How Boom Has Beset Our Schools

Arlington Schools Remember Basic Task: Educating Child

(Third in a Series)

by TOM BRENNAN

Boom-borne problems of expanding enrollments, shrinking tax base and rising costs have buffeted Arlington Heights elementary school system for a decade.

In the public mind it may seem that the school system has been more concerned with building schools and getting tax money than with education. Newspapers, with their stress on the need for more classrooms rather than on what goes on in the classroom, are perhaps responsible for creating this impression.

BUT DISTRICT 25 has definitely not forgotten that its basic task is to educate the child, not merely to provide teachers and schoolhouses.

Thus while struggling to absorb a 5-fold increase in the number of pupils over the past 10 years, the school system also has worked diligently to better educate these youngsters.

One of the most important steps during the postwar era was the adoption of the junior high school system for sixth, seventh and eighth grades. This took place in September, 1950.

EDUCATORS point out that the junior high school youngsters have adjustment problems peculiar to their own age level. They are socially and physically beyond the grammar school age but not yet ready for a high school environment.

In addition to helping junior high school pupils adjust to the early teen years, separation of the upper grades also permits development of a more specialized educational program.

At the junior high school age, the talents of the individual gain more attention. Pupils are able to choose among advanced courses in art and science after they have completed basic requirements in these subjects.

A RECENT addition is the introduction of foreign language classes as an elective subject.

More emphasis on the teaching of science is another trend, according to Robert P. Campbell, who will step from the principalship of Dryden elementary school to the same position at new Miner junior high next fall.

"The general science course once taught in high school is now given in junior high," he said. "All the way down to the primary grades the trend is to begin teaching science as early as possible."

CAMPBELL believes the interest of youngsters in science is stimulated by television and a host of other mechanical marvels in our "gadget world."

Most children have a pretty good idea of how a jet aircraft engine operates by the time they enter school, he noted.

And by the time they finish the first grade the small fry have had read to them a book telling "how a diesel engine runs," complete with lavish full-color illustrations.

A by-product of this stress on "realism" is the decline in favor of the fairy tale, relegated to the scrap heap as outmoded and meaningless to most primary graders.

READING REMAINS as important a function as ever to Arlington Heights school administrators. A report on the system made last year by the office of the state superintendent of public instruction singled out the reading instruction with this comment:

"In the schools' kindergarten through fifth grade organization, we wish to commend the emphasis on reading."

The report found much to praise throughout the school system, heartening evidence of the high quality of education during the difficult years of great growth. (AP

Plant Managers To View Homes

Five hundred Chicago area plant personnel managers have been invited to a preview of model homes in a new Arlington Heights subdivision Sunday.

Albert E. Riley, president of Hasbrook Construction Co., said the preview will include a discussion of problems of finding housing for employees who will follow industry to the northwest suburbs. This is the first conference of its kind, he indicated.

Hasbrook will build 500 homes on a tract annexed to the village in the spring. The area extends from Thomas st. to Palatine rd., west of unincorporated Arlington Knolls subdivision. Thre models are on Palatine rd., west of Wilson school. AF)

Junior 'Olympics' Slated August 7

The seventh annual junior olympics, sponsored by the Arlington Heights Lions club, will be held Wednesday, August 7, at Recreation park, it was announced this week by Lester T. McAuliffe, chairman of the boys and girls committe for the organization.

The all day event will include a wheel parade, 50 yd. dash, baseball throw, base running, and swimming races.

A TOTAL OF 25 trophies, 100 medals, and 150 ribbons and emblems will be awarded to participants.

Supervising the olympics this year will be Dick Ault, recreation director. (AF

County Board Refuses Gas Cavern Rezoning

(CNS)—The county board has denied a rezoning petition from the Northern Illinois Gas company to create an underground storage cavern for propane and butane gas on the west side of Elmhurst road about one-half mile south of Oakton street in Elk Grove township.

The vote was 14 to 0. Only Commissioner not voting was Charles Chaplin, of Northbrook, who said it was the first time he "passed" his vote since his election to the board in 1954.

THE BOARD'S action may stir up a controversy. Its vote ran counter to a unanimous recommendation from the 5-member county zoning board of appeals to approve the $1 million project. Rarely have the commissioners dumped the zoning body's recommendations.

It did so on the strength of the city of Chicago's objection that the cavern would be too close for safety in event an airplane was forced down near or on it. The site is within 1½ miles of the city-owned O'Hare Field.

Edward W. Parlee, assistant corporation counsel for Chicago, personally delivered a 10-minute plea before the county board public service committee Monday, urging the city's objection be honored.

COMMISSIONER John J. Duffy, moving that the petition be denied, said:

"The storage of this gas so close to the airport would create a safety hazard of which the board members should want no part."

Chaplin interjected:

"Before we vote, might we hear the other side of the story. The fact that the zoning board recommended approval indicates there are some good points, too."

Commissioner Fred A. Fulle said, "At the moment, I'm not for or against the project, but the zoning board hearing brought out testimony that underground storage is safer than that over ground."

Duffy answered that with the site so near O'Hare airport, "I fear the possibility of a jet plane hitting the top of the cavern, causing the biggest catastrophe ever."

DISCUSSION ENDED with the clerk calling the roll.

"I'll pass my vote," said Chaplin. "I don't feel I'm qualified to pass on this without more knowledge."

The case had been standing still in committee since early May when Duffy deferred the matter to study Chicago's objection. Gas company officials were not present at Monday's committee hearing, later said they had not been notified.

Duffy cited testimony before the zoning board by John E. Babcock, consulting engineer and city of Chicago witness, who suggested the cavern be encased in a steel structure or of similar material.

GAS COMPANY plans called for drilling the 8-million gallon storage cavern about 280 feet deep in a layer of rock known as Maquoketa shale, said to be more dense than concrete.

"It is clear from the testimony and reports of experts that Maquoketa shale is impervious to liquefied petroleum gas and has proved to be very satisfactory material for underground storage of propane," said the zoning board in its 5-page statement recommending rezoning the 27-acre tract from farming to light industrial use.

Duffy contended that a flood could move underground strata causing a possible explosion from released gas.

"This is a deadly gas, in my opinion," Duffy warned, adding: "There's no cavern like it located in a metropolitan area anywhere in the United States."

PERMISSION, subject to rezoning approval, to operate the cavern was granted by the Illinois commerce commission in August, 1956.

At rezoning hearings, no objections were offered by Elk Grove, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, or Des Plaines.

Marvin Chandler, president of Northern Illinois Gas, testified earlier that a cavern is "the most modern and safe way to store liquefied propane gas." It is commonly called bottled gas.

A DECORATIVE black, brown and white tile mosaic at the entrance to Arlington Heights' new Westgate school lends a modern touch to the building. The school will be occupied in the fall.

First Auto Death

According to the American Automobile Association, the first automobile fatality in this country occurred on September 3, 1899.

SEATED AT THE DESK of Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman is Nancy Wickman, newly elected Lt. Gov. at Illini Girls State held recently in Springfield. Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wickman, 47 W. Algonquin rd. is a senior at Arlington high school and was sponsored by the Merle Guild American Legion auxiliary of Arlington Heights. Standing behind Nancy are Marjorie Frew of Lake Forest, Joyce Madden of Deland and Lt. Gov. Chapman.

Boy Scouts Need Building Help

Committees are being organized to help build the new Boy Scout headqarters and supply station located on Demster street just west of Maine high school.

Detailed plans and specifications have been completed, and a meeting of those interested has been called by Council President Fred E. Welsh for Friday, July 19 at 8 p.m., at the recently relocated Scout office in the old Methodist church in Des Plaines.

While the Kimball Hill organization will act as coordinator and general contractor, the construction is planned as a joint venture of all local Scouters in the building industry. Contributions of material by dealers and trade factors and contributions of time by the workers are expected to get the building built at a low out-of-the-pocket cost in dollars.

WHILE CONSTRUCTIONS of many of the important ingredients have already been made, there is need for literally thousands of different types of material going into a building of this type. Further, many hundreds of hours of help will be needed in the erection and fabrication of the materials at the job site.

The headquarters will be an "el" shaped, 1-story building of 3600 square feet area. It will contain offices, conference and meeting rooms, toilets, kitchen, and storerooms to stock the hundreds of different promotional, educational and Scout training pamphlets, books and films used in bringing Scouting to the boy.

THE LOCAL Scout Council earned the slogan, "America's fastest growing Council" last year and is continuing to outgrow all previous expectations.

According to Mr. S. H. Huntington, Scout Executive, the headquarters will be a big step forward in increasing the effectiveness of the professional staff and the Scouting program.

Trade workers or contractors who will contribute 1, 2 or 3 days' time to the project should come to the Friday night meeting or get in touch with W. P. Utermohlen, chairman of the building committee, or Scout headquarters at VA 7-2156. (B7

Germans Discover Underwear Can Be Pretty

by BILL DILLINGHAM

HAMBURG—Even men's underwear can be beautiful!

A number of German manufacturers have at last discovered the way to advertise men's underwear. They use models, and the models are women!

In Dusseldorf, Frankfurt, and Hamburg, fashion shows are taking place that deal exclusively with this type of clothing. The girls, some of them rather well-known and highly-paid German models, make even the long-handled underwear attractive. In Hamburg, the fashion show is to last an extra week, comprising daily displays of 3 and a half hours.

STRANGELY, men's interest in their own underwear has suddenly increased.

In Frankfurt, possibly as a test-joke on the part of the manufacturer, a man stepped out to demonstrate underwear among the women models. The spectators booed him off of the stage. This was interpreted to mean that from that moment on they wanted their underwear modeled by the ladies.

"Not only do the women wear the pants nowadays," announced a company poster, "but they can be seen in our underwear, too."

Another sign, printed in huge letters, reads: "The gentlemen are requested to refrain from touching the merchandise while it is being displayed."

After only 6 days of fashion shows, one point has been made clear to both the clients and the manufacturers. Everybody agrees that men's underwear generally lacks style. "It is the single item of clothing," remarked one of the Dusseldorf show employees, "that is not given any attention by the designers. Not in Germany. Perhaps in France."

NOW THAT MEN have come to see how unappealing they appear in their underwear, the demand for "modern" underclothing is increasing.

Will men ever return to modelling their own underwear?

This question was raised by a disgruntled male-model in a "Letter to the Editor" appearing in Hamburg's Abendblatt.

"Women model everything that is for men. Now they've started on underwear. Next it'll be our suits. I say, watch out." (B10 Distinguished between intelligent" (having good sense) and "intelligible" (clear; capable of being understood). Thus: "Answer me directly and please try to be intelligent." "Even at that great distance, his words were intelligible."

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "I had like to have caught my heel on the stairs." It is much better to say, "I came near to catching my heel on the stairs," or, "I almost caught my heel on the stairs."

Do not say, "He has the capacity to do it." Say, "He has the ability to do it."

Do not say, "He has started in to work." Omit "in."

Do not say, "That's all the faster his car can go." Say, "That's as fast as his car can go."

Do not say, "Mix together one cup of milk and two eggs." Omit "together," which is redundant.

Vacationists:

A 3 week visit in Pittsburgh, Pa. was enjoyed by Sara, Ralph and children, Paula and Tommy, 108 Yale. They stayed with Sara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Griffiths, who accompanied them home just in time to assist in operation basement cleanup. Husband Tom joined the family in Pittsburgh over the fourth.

Frank and Rose Johnson and children, Karen, Keith and Linda, 1401 Fremont, had a leisurely week at Little Silver Lake, Antioch, where they stayed at a family cottage.

The busy Herigodt family has been at it again. A second vacation for Carolyn and Bob and boys, Robert, Richard and Raymond, 1513 Fremont, proved relaxing at Lake of the Clouds, Mich. Last week their house guests included Bob's brother, Roy, wife and daughter, Pamela of Mobile, Ala. Presently enjoying the Herigodt hospitality is Carolyn's sister, Mrs. T. Wall of San Rafael., Calif. and children, Donna, Gray, Brian and Leslie.

Sunny Florida was the destination of Louise and Ken Smith, 1515 Euclid. First a stopover in Oak Park, Mich. where they left their 3 children in the custody of grandmother, Mrs. Edith Lobb, then to Miami with friends of long standing, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kehoe of Roseville, Mich. They stayed at the winter home of Dick's father, Dr. Kehoe, and enjoyed deep sea fishing, golfing, surf bathing and seeing the sights.

Recently returned from 2 weeks with Boy Scout Troop 57 at their summer camp in Napowan, Wis. is Daniel Bedford, son of Nelda and Fred Bedford, 1302 W. Sigwalt.

A motor trip to California put 6500 miles on the family car for Lucille and Stanley Anderson and children, Richard, Jeanne, Chris and Janice, 1215 W. Sigwalt. A leisurely month tour enabled them to see most sights of interest, including Disneyland. They returned barely in time to celebrate daughter Janice's fifth birthday.

Visitors

A TWA plane from Reading, Pa. brought a welcome guest to the Burkett household, 1405 Euclid. Your reporter's mother, Viola Rhoads, will spend a week becoming re-acquainted with her 3 grandchildren.

Neither several feet of water nor aching muscles daunted the spirit of Elsie and Ed Johnson, 515 Yale, Saturday evening when they entertained 5 couples from Bethany church in Edison Park. Fun, charades and good refreshments dispelled the flood's gloomier aspects.

Guests during the past week at the Wrobel home, 1404 Fremont, were Phyllis's folks, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vemis of Miami, Fla. Daughter, Kathy Wrobel spent a happy 10 days with Aunt Lucille Wrobel in Oak Lawn, Ill.

Birthdays

A group of neighborhood children helped Michael Smith celebrate his fourth birthday. Parents, Louise and Ken, 1515 Euclid, escorted the small fry to Kiddieland for refreshments and umpteen rides.

Linda Alm, daughter of Kay and Bob Alm, 234 Yale, turned 6 last week and on hand to enjoy the fun at her birthday party were Marcia and Melinda Flodin, Joyce Spies, Susan and Sandra Henn, Eileen and Ellen McCall and Mary Rose Mell.

The fourth birthday of Sandy Fleiszar, daughter of Kay and Mitchell Fleiszar, 1310 W. Sigwalt, was much enjoyed by the guest of honor and her friends Maureen Long, Jimmy Depew, Susan Bedford, Chris Bruska, Mark Karm, Bob Massey, Janice Anderson, Carol Beth and Dickie Mooney. The mothers sipped coffee and ate cake as the little ones had fun.

New Neighbors

Welcome to newcomers at 28 Reuter, Dolores and Harold Goeddeke and children Ronald, 4, Vicky, 2½, Luanne, 1½ and Ricky, 6 months. The family moved here from Bensenville although Dolores had been a long time resident of Arlington. Harold is associated with L. A. Scharringhousen Co., Roselle, and they will continue attending St. John church in Bensenville. High on the list of pleasant pastimes are bowling and roller-skating.

Dance Reminder

The local dinner dance is next Saturday, July 27, at Chevy Chase country club. Dinner at 8 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from Bert Graczyk, 1417 Fremont. Phone CL 5-0551.

Jean Collins, 1604 Fremont, is proud owner of a new "Metropolitan" sports car, a gift from her Dad.

Word of Caution

Sympathy is extended to all who suffered losses and hats off to all who could grin wryly and say "it could have been worse". However, an incident occurred in our neighborhood which should serve as warning to all parents. In the early evening a group of children were enjoying the early stages of the rains by wading the streets. The receding waters showed a gaping hole where a sewer cover should have been. What might have happened is frightening. (A

Virginia Terrace News

Bob Burra, 1223 Wilke, decided to take advantage of the aftermath of the storm Friday. Since his front yard was covered with waer, he brought out his fishing rod and practiced casting. To the added enhoyment of his neighbors, he took a fish from his freezer and posed happily with his "catch." He remarked that it certainly wasn't everyday that he could go fishing in his front yard.

Return From Camping Trips

Two Terrace families have returned unharmed by northern camping trips. Carol and Bill Narup, 1207 Race, went to Quebso Park, Canada, joined by another couple, John and Ronnie Enander of Barrington. They canoed and fished by day and camped at night. Among the wildlife they saw, the beavers were their favorites.

Devil's Lake, Wis., was the camping site of Marge and Dick Frisbie and 4 oldest children, 1512 Oakton. A tornado and heavy rains added to the excitement of tent living for the children.

Danny Murray, Boy Scout troop 66, and David Ber, troop 166, have returned from 2 weeks at camp in Wisconsin. The boys enjoyed a day-long canoe trip; however, much of their time was spent working on merit badges.

Newcomers

Newcomers are Mary Louis and Dieter Burkhardt, who moved into 1507 Clarendon, where the Klints formerly lived. For the past 5 years they have lived in Chicago and have 3 children, Mary Jo, 4, Susan, 2 and Christopher one.

Moving east are Bob and Pat Bauer and 3 children, 1333 Race. Bob is a flight engineer with American Airlines at LaGuardia airport. Their new address will be: 1 Shadyside ave., Port Washington, N.Y.

Tom and Elizabeth Rosenthal and family, formerly of 1252 Chicago, have moved to Bloomington, Ill., where Tom is employed by General Electric.

Birthday Celebrations

Sunday Lorraine Francis and her son, Kenny, 1227 Wilke, celebrated their birthdays together with a family party. Kenny, 3, has the distinction of being the first baby born to a family while living in Virginia Terrace.

To celebrate Leslie Silver's 15th birthday, her parents, Doris and Arnold, 1247 Chicago, invited Mr. and Mrs. Mort Sager and daughters, Barbara and Betsy, for a barbecue supper.

Bruce Williams, 1215 Race, invited 11 boy friends to a party Thursday in honor of his seventh birthday. Guests were Scotty Poklin, Mark and Larry Larson, Ronnie and Robert Dolejs, Charles Marshall, Butch Mells, Mike Henneman, Bob Gunnison, George Herbert and David Cech.

Have First Son

Parents of a son are Charlene and Leslie Bang, 1315 Illinois. Thomas Joseph was born June 25 and weighed 9 pounds. He has 2 sisters, Leslee and Dianne.

Visiting Tess and Tom Rossell for 2 weeks are their nieces, Susie Rossell, 12, and Sally Reddick, 14, from Indianapolis. While here they plan a day at the races and horseback riding. Tess recently returned from a weeks visit with her parents, Mr.and Mrs. Eric Stanley in Greenfield, Ind.

Carol and Burt Glatz and son, Peter, 1107 Chicago, have returned from a 2-week trip east. They visited Carol's sister in New Jersey and her brother in New York. On the way home they stopped in Allentown, Pa., where Burt's plant is located.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Foshee, Chicago ave., were Mr. and Mrs. Eric Schultz of Kiowa, Kan.

Hal Trowe, 1240 Chicago, entertained her sister-in-law, Mrs. Barbara Anderson from Rockford. (A nothing gives your kitchen the modern look like a modern electric range and nothing cooks cleaner, cooks cooler, or cooks food faster!

As an appliance dealer recently observed, "This is the electric age . . . electric servants are taking over in the home."

Typical of this trend is the change to the electric range. Women like their modern looks and appreciate surface units that keep pots and pans bright. And electric ovens hold the heat more evenly because they are insulated on all 6 sides (not merely 5). Such refinements as automatic oven controls, radiant broiling, new super-speed surface units are easy to take, too. Equally important, you can be sure your new electric range will be modern for many years to come.

How Much Does Car Cost to Run

Do you know how much it actually costs to run your car?

Motorists can find out from new statistics released by the Chicago Motor club. The firm of R. E. Runzheimer and company, Chicago, compiled them to provide a national average. Two categories were set up: variable costs, related to the number of miles driven, how hard the car is used, and amount spent on service and repair; and fixed costs, including insurance, taxes and depreciation.

THE NATIONAL averages are $3.74 per day ($635 a year) for fixed costs and 3.69 cents per mile for gas, oil, tires and maintenance.

These figures apply to cars driven less than 18,000 miles a year, and are based on the lighter models.

The breakdown of average costs follows:

VARIABLE COSTS

	Per Mile
Gasoline and oil	2.42
Maintenance	.74
Tires	.53
Total variable costs	3.69

FIXED COSTS

	Per Year
Fire and theft ins.	$ 16.48
Property damage & liability	86.92
License and registration	17.60
Depreciation	514.00
Total fixed costs	$635.00

GEORGE HARRIS

Comes the time of the year when most of us begin to plan vacations — to get away from it all is uppermost in all of our minds. Man, what fun you can have and what memories you bring home with you, but — do you remember to capture those memories on film?

Cameras, film (both black & white and color), all of the accessories for the "camera bug" are ready and waiting for you at Arlington Heights or Harris Pharmacy. I know you'd like to capture the antics of the children, catch the action-packed drama of Dad catching that "big one" and get on film those beautiful scenes that you would like to remember. All of the things that you'd like to remember can be captured on film — at such a trivial cost — and will let you relive those wonderful moments of a well-planned vacation.

For your own pleasure, please don't forget to take along a camera and plenty of film; when you return, you'll be glad you heeded "Pappy" Harris' advice. See you at the camera counter, huh?

Lorraine and Jerry Stasch entertained her parents, the Fred Erismans of Chicago, over the weekend. This was the first time Mrs. Erisman had visited them since her illness and she was especially delighted to be with the children in their home again.

Vacationers Return Home

Ginny Read, Charlie and Priscilla are back home from an eastern vacation that took them 3,000 miles. Their first big stop was at New York City, where they stayed with her sister, Marilyn. Into 2½ days there they packed a ferry ride to Staten Island, a visit to the Statue of Liberty, a tour of Radio City and the United Nations. From New York City, they went to Newport, R.I. to visit friends. The highlight of the visit there was when they went sailing—a sport the whole family enjoys. In fact, Charlie can brag to all his friends that he went sailing on his 12th birthday. While there, they were able to see the Mayflower in the harbor after she had just completed her voyage from Plymouth, England. From Rhode Island they went to Newton, Mass. to visit Ginny's family and then came the trip home, with everyone thrilled with the good times they had had.

The D. F. House family is back from a month in Pompano Beach, Fla. They headquartered at the Ocean Ranch Villa, which is right on the ocean. It was their fourth year there, so they spent the majority of the time just relaxing. However, Rob did become quite adept at climbing coconut trees and they have movies to prove it. He got all the way to the top of one and threw down 3 coconuts. Rickey went part way up — will probably make it to the top next time. Rob and his father also went skin diving along the coral reef and were interested in the species of tropical fish and sea life they saw. They came home by way of the Berkshire Hills in Massachusetts, where they visited Mr. House's father.

The month of July has been a busy and exciting one for the Joe Intravartolos. Her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minghetti of Youngstown, Ohio, visited them with their 4 children. Since it was the first time in 10 years they had been together, it called for a family reunion of 21 here in Arlington Heights. From here the Minghettis went down to Canton, Ill., to visit her father, Charles Grzanick, and were later joined by Mrs. Intravartolo and her children for a 12-day visit. There, too, they had a family reunion, this one including 40 relatives.

Installation Dinner

Seabee Island X21 is having its installation dinner at Jack Gunnell's restaurant, Mt. Prospect, Saturday. Stu Grastfield, state department president, will install the officers. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Krause of Rolling Meadows have been invited to the dinner. Mrs. Kruse is president of the Retarded Children's chapter in this area and Island X21 is especially interested in helping this chapter.

The John F. Millers are home from a vacation that took them west. They were gone 3 weeks and on their way out to California they stopped at the painted dessert, petrified forest, and Grand Canyon. Their destination was South San Gabriel, Calif., where her family lives. Mr. and Mrs. John Oosten. While there they visited Knott's Berry farm and Disneyland. On the way home they visited Zion National park, and Bryce, canyon in Utah and Salt Lake City. They packed a great deal of sight seing in 3 weeks, but they were most impressed with the state of Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Gaenzle and their family chose another section of the country for their vacation. They went to the Ozarks, where they stayed at a resort in Bronson, Mo., for almost 2 weeks. They did some sightseeing but spent most of their time swimming and just enjoying their free time.

Donna Braunsreuter, daughter of the H. A. Braunsreuters, was 8 Friday and had a birthday party to celebrate the occasion. Beverly King was there, as well as Karen Platt, Dorothy Bakowski, Mary Kay Mowatt, Kathleen Joyce, Nancy Shannon, Mary Peterhans, Sherry Ehlers, Debbie Splitt and Candice Piashl. The decorations were pink and white, including the ice cream cake, soda and candy.

Junior Counsellor

Kenny Friker is busy these days working whith his dad, E. A. Friker at the North Shore Day camp as a junior counsellor. The group is divided into teams and Kenny is in charge of 10 boys, being responsible for swimming, baseball and other activities.

Mrs. William Frost and Bill Jr. spent 2 weeks in Fort Dodge, Iowa, visiting her mother, Mrs. Vivian Anderson. While there, they spent some time at Twin lakes with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Beneke, who have a cottage there. They went fishing and boating and Bill even did some water skiing.

The Melbert Andersons have a new addition to their family born July 6 in Sherman hospital, Elgin. Corine weighed 6 pounds, 11 ounces. She has a sister, Sheryl, and brother, Gary.

Johnny Koriath, son if the Arnold Koriaths, celebrated his fourth birthday July 17.

From England To Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights welcomes Mr. an Mrs. James Patterson and their son, Ross, who moved to 728 N. Kennicott from London, England, a month ago. Mr. Patterson, who was formerly in the RAF, is now an aircraft mechanic at O'Hare field. Their son, who is 14 years old, is looking forward to going to high school in America. The Pattersons are distantly related to the William Logues of 925 N. Ridge.

Chris and Les Gleason spent the weekend at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton with 3 other couples. They enjoyed swimming, golfing and the pleasant atmosphere there.

Don and Stephen Henson of Matteson, Ill., are visiting their cousin, Scott Kane, for a week and a half.

The Casey Gordons have been enjoying a 10-day visit from her sister, Mrs. M. M. Hammentre of Kansas City, Mo. (A

Three Zone Pleas Referred to Board

(CNS) Three northwest suburban rezoning petitions were referred to the county board of zoning appeals Monday by the county board public service committee. Two were in Wheeling and one in Palatine.

In Wheeling township, one petition was from Betty J. Will, of Wheeling, covering 10 acres on the west side of Milwaukee avenue, 1,000 feet south of Hintz road, seeking a change from Farming to Light Industry.

The other was from Ozell Atkins, Milwaukee and Greenwood avenues, Des Plaines, covering one acre on the northwest corner of Des Plaines River road and Euclid avenue, seeking a change from Farming to B-1 (Business.)

IN PALATINE township, Henry W. Gieseke, 442 North Charlotte st., Palatine, asked that one acre on the southeast corner of Baldwin road and Sterling avenue be reclassified from R-4 (residence, 10,000 square feet) to B-1 (Business). (AMP

'Concern' Spurs Walks Campaign

A concern for the "safety and security" of Arlington Heights school children has led the village board to campaign vigorously for installation of sidewalks near schools, Mayor Carlisle said in a statement this week.

"The board's only interest is in immediate school areas, where obviously automobile traffic should be separated from school children as recommended by the National Safety council," wrote the mayor.

THE AMOUNT of sidewalk needed around each school will vary with the hazard at each school, he pointed out. But "in general this will mean about a 2-block area around the school."

The campaign for sidewalks was launched on the south side, the mayor stated, because 3 schools(South junior high, Park and Our Lady of the Wayside elementary schools) are involved. All but 60 pieces of property in the vicinity already have sidewalks.

TRUSTEES CAN force owners to put in the walks if they do not co-operate, Mayor Carlisle warned.

The full text of his letter is printed in the Fence Post.

No board meeting was held Tuesday because of trustee vacations. The matter probably will come up at the next meeting, July 30. (AF

Parents of a Daughter

Kathy Marie, first daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Warman, 1115 N. State rd., was born July 9 in Resurrection hospital weighing 7 pounds 1 ounce. Her brothers are Scott, 7, Bruce, 6, Glenn, 3, and Craig, 15 months old.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Loos, 1170 N. Beverly lane, and their children drove to Wisconsin Dells early last week, where they enjoyed 3 days of sightseeing.

Family Vacations

Mrs. A. J. Baugous and daughter, Susan, 1158 N. Hickory ave., enjoyed a week's vacation at a resort near Hayward, Wis., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hurekes of Chicago. Boating, fishing, swimming and visits to an Indian village were enjoyed by the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Baer and their sons, 1147 N. Hickory ave., have just returned from a 2-week vacation trip, which included a tour through the Ford plant and museum, a visit to Port Huron, Ontario, and then on to Niagara Falls. After a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fausnaugh of Columbus, Ohio, Mr. Baer's sister, they finished their vacation in Peoria, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ward, parents of Mrs. Baer. Mrs. Ward returned with the Baers for a 2-week visit.

A boat trip across Lake Michigan and a trip through the state in their car, which had ben ferried across, made an interesting 3-day vacation for Mr. and Mrs. Armand Bosso and their family of 905 E. Olive st.

A vacation for Mr. and Mrs. Karl Buttstadt and their family of 917 E. Olive st. ended after only 2 days at Hayward, Wis., when they were notified that Mr. Buttstadt's father, Erich Buttstadt, had suffered a fatal heart attack while on vacation in Portage, Wis.

Scout Troop 166 Attends Camp

Troop 166 of St. James church returned Saturday from Camp Napowan at Wild Rose, Wis., where they have spent the last 2 weeks. The troop passed 32 merit badges. Leaders attending were Howard Kayne, Dick Ber and Bob Schultz.

Troop 166 set a record for attendance at the summer camp. The boys who attended were Dave Ber, Dick Kaye, Mike Barton, Mark Shannon, Bob Bryant, Joe Weiland, Jack Smith, Jerry and Ray Orgler, Bruce Watkins, Ford and Tom Slagle, Kevin Shea, Larry Weidner, Bill Shumaker, Bob and Dean Schultz, Steve Buckeridge, Jim Link, Dick Hawley, Tom Kushner, Allen Aspengren, Don Schaefer, Jim Valenti, Charles Strother, Gary Kelly and Cliff Anson.

New Home Owners Group To Oppose Sidewalk Plan

A militant band of Arlington Heights residents, has organized the South Property Protective association, to oppose the installation of sidewalks in south side areas.

About 150 home owners met last week. Their aim is "to convince the village fathers of the folly of their informal policy." President is Forrest Blose, 214 W. Fairview, who represented owners at a June 18 board meeting.

ALSO PRESENT was a delegation from the north side, who elected Herbert W. Gorder, 905 N. Mitchell, as temporary chairman.

"We strongly object to having sidewalks suddenly forced upon us by arbitrary action," stated a group spokesman. "We want to know exactly what is the village board's established policy on sidewalks—why is one group told the sidewalk program is village-wide and another is told it is restricted to a limited area.

"WE ARE CURIOUS about the board's extreme haste in this matter, as we do not feel a competent study of sidewalks throughout the village was made.

"Why have we been told our only choice lies in how we wish to pay for these sidewalks, and why have we been 'spontaneously' visited by paving contractors seeking our business?

"We feel the question of safety is hypothetical: we want the village board to show us how sidewalks can guarantee the absolute safety of any child.

"We vigorously oppose spending many thousands of dollars, in view of the present heavy tax burden imposed upon taxpayers."

Lengthy ribbons of concrete, he said, would only destroy the exclusive suburban character of Arlington Heights. The new SPPA, he concluded is taking necessary legal action. (A

Hearing for New Wheeling Subdivision Set July 22

(CNS)—The county board will hold a special public hearing on a rezoning petition for a proposed 230-home subdivision in Wheeling township.

Commissioner Fred Fulle first motioned to defer action in the case involving 80 acres of farmland on the north side of Central road about 660 feet west of Wolf road.

But the attorney for Central Land corporation, the applicant, complained that might delay the case all summer in view of upcoming vacations.

COMMISSIONER John Duffy's motion to hold a special hearing on the matter was adopted by the board's public service committee Monday. The hearing will be held July 22 in the county building.

Fulle did not object in view the delay would be long enough for the board to consider Mt. Prospect's objections to the project.

Puzzling the board is its report that the plan commission of the village of Mt. Prospect has given tentative approval to the proposed plat. (B7

Lutherans Invite Buffalo Pastor

A search for a permanent pastor continues by members of Trinity Lutheran church. A fifth "call" was issued by a special voters assembly July 9. The "call" was issued to Rev. Herbert Muhl, a native of Buffalo, N. Y.

Rev. Muhl, 28, is presently serving 2 small mission congregations. They are Bethany Lutheran church, Eldon, Mo., and Grace Lutheran church, Versailles, Mo. He has served as pastor of the 2 mission churches since graduation from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, 3 years ago. Rev. Muhl is married and the father of 2 small daughters.

WITH 350 VACANT pastorates in the Missouri synod-Lutheran church, the search for a pastor is a continuing one in many churches. In issuing a "call" for a pastor, both the minister and the congregations rely upon "Divine guidance" for the "right decision" according to Vicar Arthur Erb.

Vicar Erb, a student-minister, is currently serving as temporary pastor for Trinity Lutheran church. He is scheduled to return to his final year of seminary studies this fall.

Acknowledgement of the "call" by Rev. Muhl was made Saturday by telephone. A final decision on acceptance or rejection of the invitation to serve as pastor of the local church is expected July 25 when the 2 Missouri churches will hold congregational meetings.

Police Keep Physician Busy

Rolling Meadows police kept Dr. F. Patience Noecker of Palatine busy last week with emergency calls to care for injured children.

Three young boys were rushed by the police to the Palatine doctor for emergency treatment.

Most seriously injured was James Morphey, 5, who severed the fourth and fifth fingers of his left hand while playing with a hand lawn mower July 10. The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morphey, 3712 Wren lane South. Police officers George Gallanis and James Ruggio rushed the child to Dr. Noecker's office where an emergency operation was performed to close the wound on his hand.

STRUCK BY A screwdriver just above his left eye, young Bryan Betten, 5, was taken by police to Dr. Noecker's office. Three stitches were needed to close the wound at the left eyebrow. The child is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Betten, 2305 School dr.

A third trip to the Palatine doctor was made by police when 2-year-old Randy Shaw, 2607 Sigwalt ct., fell on a gravel driveway. The child split his lip in the fall. Randy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Shaw.

City Officials Have a Picnic

Setting aside civic duties temporarily, Rolling Meadows city officials and employees joined together in a picnic outing Sunday.

The outdoor event was held at the home and farm of Harry Munn on Kirchhoff rd. Munn is the foreman of the city public works department.

ABOUT 100 people attended the picnic, planned and promoted by City Clerk Eda Zimmerman. Activities during the day included volleyball, horseshoes, baseball, races and contests. All elected officials, city employees, policemen and members of the various city commissions had been invited to the picnic.

Each family provided its own basket lunch. Ice cream and liquid refreshments were served.

CHAMPIONS in the "egg-throwing" contest proved to be George and Marge Kitterman. Kitterman is a member of the city plan commission while Mrs. Kitterman works as a clerk at city hall. Jim McFeggan, superintendent of the water department, proved his ability as a "Chinese wrestler" in winning the contest.

An accident marred the day's festivities when Mrs. Bert Trager injured her foot during a volleyball game. Medical treatment and X-rays revealed a chipped ankle bone. (K

Cubs Enjoy Annual Scout Picnic Fete

Cub scouts of pack 68 who attended the annual Cub Scout picnic Sunday in Elk Grove were rewarded in many ways. Not only did the boys and their families enjoy pleasant weather, picnic lunches, games and the usual picnic features, but the limited number of pack members present made it a case of literally "prizes for all."

With a pack membership of over 90, only 22 boys turned out for the picnic. With games and prizes planned for a much larger number, the boys present were at a distinct advantage on prize winning.

ABOUT 30 FAMILIES attended the annual outing. Each brought their own lunch, with ice cream, milk and soft drinks provided by the cub pack.

Picnic plans, prizes and games were under the supervision of Phil Prete, Walter Slawson and Harry Dompke. (K

Lost Your Bike?

Lose a bicycle?

Rolling Meadows police are holding a boy's bicycle waiting for the owner to identify and claim it. After more than a week no claimant has appeared at city hall, 2207 Campbell st. Police Chief Cy Campbell is hoping the owner will soon tire of walking and call for the bicycle.

Next Week: Behind 'Boom' Of Northwest Area Suburbs

Northwest suburbs are living in the middle of a boom.

These communities, currently riding the crest of record population growth, face an almost unlimited potential in future expansion.

The colorful and dramatic story of the northwest suburban "boom" as well as features, pictures, and descriptions of area developments will be included in a special Summer Home Festival edition to be published next week in all 12 Paddock Publications.

INTERPRETATIVE articles of special interest will include:

—how suburban merchants are meeting the challenge of modern shopping centers;

—how giant earth-moving monsters are gauging out a spectacular new future for the northwest area;

—how dozing northwest suburbia awoke one frosty morning Last November and found itself occupied overnight by the legions of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Chicago;

—what the new housing bill means to down payment-conscious homeseekers;

—what Cook county is doing to remedy hodgepodge development in unincorporated areas; and —why northwest Cook and north DuPage counties face the greatest growth potential in all Chicagoland.

THIS SPECIAL edition will include many other features of particular interest to suburban readers.

For example, women have discovered a secret allure for keeping husbands home. Small ranch-style homes can be economical to heat. How TV is influencing use of home furnishings. How you can trade-in your old home for a new one.

Among articles describing suburban home developments in this area are stories telling all about:

—Rolling Meadows, the "pioneer" community in northwest suburbs planned for mass construction;

—Winston Park, the 775-acre Palatine development noted for being the largest parcel of land ever annexed at one time by a Chicago suburb; and —Elk Grove Village, the project of a wiry young Texan who has emerged as a "giant" among northwest area home builders.

The edition, included as a "bonus" with all papers next week, will be on sale at news stands Thursday. (BB

AMONG EXPERTS from all parts of the Midwest who will teach the potential gymnastic stars their stuff will be Al Hannas, Big Ten tramp champ from Michigan State and Gay Hughes, head gymnastic coach at Arlington Heights High School.

Registration for this particular camp is still open, according to Brousard and application can be made at any local "Y" or at the general offices, 19 S. LaSalle st., telephone number, CE 6-6787.

County Board OKs 4 Subdivisions

(CNS) The county board Monday approved subdivision plats for 4 new subdivisions in Northwest suburbs—one each in Elk Grove, Maine, Palatine, and Schaumburg township, and deferred action on a fifth in Schaumburg to make sure objections of the village of Schaumburg Center have been met.

The fifth one, scheduled to be approved Tuesday following another check-up was for Hoffman Estates V, on the northwest corner of Illinois blvd and Schaumburg road.

Commissioner Mackle rpointed out that Louis Redeker, president of the village of Schaumburg Center, had complained that previous work in the area by the same contractor, the F. and S. Construction co., had been reported to have resulted in complaints of raw sewage and bad odors.

Dr. John Hall, county health director, reported the plans for public water supply and sanitary sewer system had the approval of the state health department.

OTHER PLATS which were approved were:

Elk Grove Township: Hatlen Heights Estates Unit 2, southwest corner of Lincoln road and Hatlen avenue. Water and sewers to be installed.

Maine Township: Ernst Stade Terrace, northwest corner East River road and Tela Lane. Soil percolation tests by E. N. Fletcher, registered engineer.

Palatine Township: Joan's Gardens, southeast corner Baldwin road and Stephen Drive Water and sewage treatment or connection to be installed.

Wheeling Township: Arrowhead subdivision, northwest corner of Schoenbeck road and Willow rd. Soil percolation test by Fletcher.

The Editor's Column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

The moratorium has ended. With our re-entry into general circulation, we can express our opinion on local affairs —praise or criticism of body omission or commissions.

As we write this week's column, recuperating on the banks of the Fox River, we can only hope that all is well with the powers that be.

We look with favor on articles in the Arlington Heights Herald on the need of increased planning by village, park and school boards. There should be as little delay as possible.

We cannot wait until the general public gets into an agreement.

It will take a bit of the "Teddy Roosevelt Big Stick Swing" to do the job. We hope our officials are strong enough to handle that stick.

A daily newspaper editorial Friday praised Representative McVey who represents southern Cook county in Congress. He resigned as superintendent of Thornton high school because he did not approve of a school building program of the school board. He will not be a candidate for re-election to the Congress seat because he does not approve the present board of Republicanism that predominates the party.

The editorial closed with this sentence, "Mr. McVey, 71, is still in good health ... the community needs his talents." Men of such real strength of character are needed in every community.

It is just too bad when the life of a political party depends upon job bribery to keep its manpower at full strength.

News stories tell us that a Chicago politician held a state, a county and a race track job at one and the same time.

The spotlight of an inquisitive reporter may have brought an end to such practice.

A loyal political worker is entitled to the spoils of war, but those spoils should not be allowed to become graft.

We approve of increased pay for public servants, especially postal employees who are greatly underpaid.

That increase in postal pay may cost all of us additional postage rates, but it is worthwhile if it will relieve those clerks from hunting an extra job to make ends meet.

A bill signed by Governor Stratton prohibits the transaction of public business privately. There have been growing tendencies of some bodies to hold secret meetings.

"Freedom of Information" is important. An inquisitive reporter may be considered nosey, but he now has added responsibility to report actions of all public bodies.

This is a rather large order, but if additional reporters are needed, this paper will endeavor to find them.

U. S. Congress, Gov. Stratton and the state legislature have decided that support of local schools is largely the responsibility of school districts.

In plain English, the support of our schools is up to the taxpayers. This may mean elimination of some of the educational frills, but if school boards do all possible budget slashing and take the taxpayers into their confidence, they will be given the funds to enable our children to receive a proper education.

We light a candle to the first birthday of Elk Grove Village.

Its site was the capital (town hall) of Elk Grove township government, when Mt. Prospect was only a railroad milk train station. Many of the farms on which homes by the hundreds are being built had been in the same families for 100 years.

The old box elder school which closed a few years ago, will soon be replaced by a modern elementary school building.

A mile to the north in the oldest cemetery of the area, lies the remains of many of the first settlers, including two who served in the Revolutionary War.

A modern shopping center is being planned which will take the place of the original business trading center of the area in the 1800's at Algonquin and Arlington Heights road.

Today Busse Woods offers to the new village a recreational progress is taking over large sections of Elk Grove township. The city of Chicago is acquiring additional land at its southern border for the world's greatest airport.

Millions are being spent to build a toll road that will furnish direct connection with the big highways of the country.

Elk Grove Village may not have a passenger railroad, but within a few years, its population will rival adjoining commuter communities.

When its 10th birthday is celebrated, it will have become a young giant. Elk Grove village can be called the last frontier of farming in Elk Grove township, formerly a garden vegetable area of Chicago.

In behalf of the older communities, this column congratulates the young village which is no longer wearing swaddling clothes, but within 12 months will become a lusty youngster of whom great things can be expected.

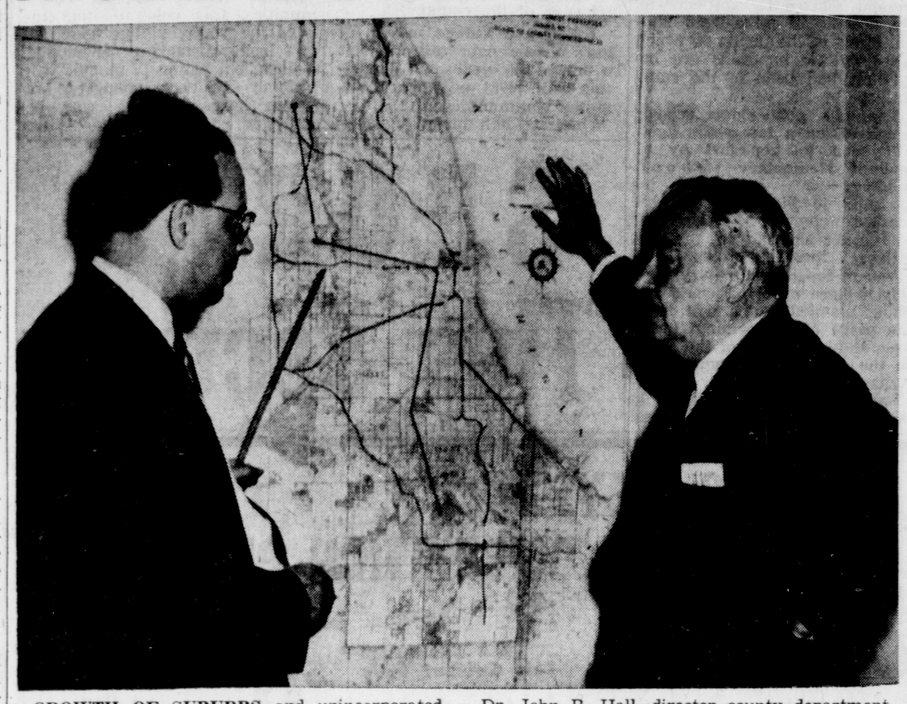
How County Health Dept. Meets Growth of Suburbs



GROWTH OF SUBURBS and unincorporated areas have created new and bigger health problems in expanding Cook county. Discussing some of the aspects of that growth are Dr. John B. Hall, director county department of public health, and Dan Ryan, president of county board of commissioners.

Rapid suburban growth is presenting Cook county's department of public health with problems.

Organized in July, 1940, the agency served approximately 500,000 people. Today more than 300,000 have been added and by 1960 another 25% increase is expected, bringing the population total to the 1 million mark.

This population increase brings about such problems as water shortage, sewage disposal problems, demands for increase in school health services, and need for more public health nursing services.

More time has to be spent on the control of tuberculosis, infant care, nutrition, nursing home supervision, etc. Although the health department has a limited budget and staff, every effort is made to help local communities solve these problems.

"Many of our suburban schools and communities employ their own nurses," department director, Dr. John B. Hall pointed out, "but our agency strives to coordinate these services." The health department also cooperates with voluntary and official health agencies working with special agencies working with special health problems.

THE AGENCY has been active for 17 years since being installed by the county board of commissioners. Its program is financed by a budget of $460,000, two-thirds of which comes from the county's general fund, with the remainder from state and federal allocations.

The agency has jurisdiction throughout all areas of Cook county not serviced by a local full-time health department as defined by the Illinois Department of Public Health. Berwyn, Chicago, Evanston, Oak Park, Stickney, Winnetka - Kenilworth, and Glencoe have full time approved health departments.

TO FACILITATE giving a decentralized service to local communities, the department maintains 4 district offices: north district-1062 Lee st., Des Plaines; west district-1907-09 Rice, Melrose Park; south district-51 E. 154, Harvey; and southwest district-3411 W. 95, Evergreen Park. The department's administrative office is located at 737 S. Wolcott ave., Chicago. (B7

Illinois Bell Accounting Center Opens in Arlington

A new Arlington Heights neighbor moved in last week.

Illinois Bell Telephone company's accounting center at 44 S. Vail avenue is now in operation, after a gradual move of employees and equipment into the new $800,000 building was completed on Saturday, July 6. Final details of the construction will be completed in a few weeks.

C. A. CARDWELL, district revenue accountant for Illinois Bell heads up the new accounting team.

"By early next year, when we expect to have the Arlington Heights center in full operation, we will be handling billing details for about 54 million telephone calls a year," he said.

"We're proud of the new building. It will bring many advantages to Arlington Heights and surrounding towns in the north and northwest suburbs. Wages of more than $850,000 a year, for instance, will be paid to our employees here. Taxes and other local expenditures will also benefit these communities."

Ground was broken for the ultra-modern 2-story-and-basement structure a year ago this month. About 150 employees work now in the building. Eventually, it will hold about 200 people, using the latest automatic machinery to process telephone bills for 167,000 customers representing 268,000 telephones in 71 north and northwest suburban communities.

THE NEW CENTER is the third constructed in the Chicago suburbs by Illinois Bell, in a move to bring the telephone billing process closer to the communities served. Previously, telephone bills have been processed at larger centers in downtown Chicago.

While the new center was under construction, the company has built up a nucleus accounting employee force in Arlington Heights, operating from temporary quarters at the central office building at 106 W. Eastman street.

"We have a beautiful air-conditioned building here which offers the finest atmosphere and working conditions in the area," Cardwell said. "We are still hiring employees for clerical and general office work."

Applicants, he said, will learn the details of the jobs open at the new center on 44 S. Vail ave. Or they can call CLearbrook 5-4100.

Be Prudent With Advice

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Giving advice to others is like handling a grenade with the pin out. Unless you are an expert, you had better throw it and run. Giving advice is as dangerous as setting a fuse to a stick of dynamite; unless you know the ropes, you are likely to end up being a casualty of the explosion.

All of us know there are times when we need advice; but even knowing this, we can get mad as a hatter at the person who offers it. Most of us will take advice with humility and gratitude from experts in a field; but if you are not an expert, it is better to withhold advice than to take the risk of losing a friend or making an enemy.

THERE ARE certain phrases that should never be used when offering advice. One is ,"you made a mistake." Another is, "You're wrong about that." Still another, "I wouldn't do it that way." However helpful you may think you are being, believe me, such statements are lethal. They often furnish the fuse that explodes the dynamite, and pull the pin that fires the grenade.

Unless you have an appealing sense of humor, never make fun of another person's appearance. Never offer personal advice, unless you can couple it with something complimentary that the person knows or believes is true. I have known people who can say anything to anyone without arousing their anger. And I know that these people can successfully offer advice of the most personal nature and get away with it, simply because their humor gives the whole incident a lightness that is soothing and belly tickling. You just can't get mad at such a person.

MAYBE you are one of those sincere persons who's kindness of speech and softness of voice wins instant confidence and friendship. In that case your advice will be accepted by most people, providing it is practical.

But with anyone, on all occasions, you should know to whom you are handing out advice; and unless you are sure, it is better to be safe than sorry. (B12

Lutheran Hospital Nears $1.2 Million Fund Goal

Returns from report meetings this week are expected to bring the total subscriptions to the Lutheran General hospital building fund to nearly three-fourths of the $1,250,000 according to Kenneth G. Meyer, area campaign chairman.

Solicitation will continue in Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Edison Park, Norwood Park and Niles business sections. During July and August residential areas, including Morton Grove, Niles and Skokie will organize committees so that the hospital campaign solicitation can begin immediately after Labor Day in September.

OTHER NEARBY communities will also be given an opportunity to cooperate on the Lutheran General hospital program, announced N. M. Nesset, president of the hospital trustees.

For every $100 contributed to the Lutheran hospital, the area will be provided with $400 worth of hospital beds and facilities.

Lutheran General hospital will be a community hospital, operated on a non-sectarian basis. Nurses, doctors and hospital employees will be selected on the basis of experience and proven ability without regard to religious affiliation.

PATIENTS WILL be admitted on the basis of emergency and medical needs without regard to race, creed, or color.

Working blue prints for the hospital have now been completed and ground will be broken as soon as possible after Labor Day. It is anticipated that the hospital will be open for service by the fall of 1959. The school of nursing for 100 student nurses is expected to open at the same time.

Flood Warnings Issued By County Health Chief

(CNS)—Dr. John B. Hall county health director, has issued warnings and advice in the wake of last weekend's record heavy rains that flooded basements, septic tanks, and private wells.

Those in doubt of the quality of their well water should boil all water used for drinking, cooking, or dishwashing, Dr. Hall said, "until you are sure that the well is again furnishing safe water."

HERE ARE HIS suggestions to disinfect a drilled well: (1) run pump until water is clear, (2) dissolve 5 tablespoons of chloride of lime 25 per cent strngth in a quart of water, (3) pour chlorine solution in well, (4) run the pump until chlorine can be smelled in the water, (5) let pump stand idle for several hours, overnight if possible, and (6) run pump until water is completely free of chlorine taste or odor.

The following foodstuffs, he said, should be destroyed if wetted with flood water: fresh fruits and vegetables, foods in cardboard containers, foods in bags such as flour, foods in screwtop containers, foods in bottles, and all meats.

CANNED FOODS can be recovered provided the cans are not badly rusted or dented, Dr. Hall said. Instructions: (1) remove label and wash can in warm water containing soap or detergent, (2) place can in chlorine solution in at least 100 parts per million strengtn (4) rinse can in fresh water and then dry.

Basement walls and floor should be thoroughly scrubbed with soap and water after flood water has drained or been pumped out. Chlorine in water will aid in overcoming odors, he said. (B7

Hearing in Fall For Herzog Case

(CNS)—An early fall hearing is predicted in the conspiracy suit on file in Circuit court against realtor E. A. Herzog brought by Baines and Tindall, said he will pany.

Herzog appeared in the offices of Attorney Albert Arnstein to answer questions regarding the sale of an apartment building at 398 Oak st., Des Plaines, to the present owners, Elfriede and William E. Grundke.

ARNSTEIN, representing Baines and Tindall, said he will file an amended complaint against Herzog since the Grundkes have been discharged from the conspiracy suit. He said Herzog will have 30 days after he files the amended complaint on July 24 to answer the charges.

The original suit said Herzog had contracted Baines and Tindall to find a purchaser for the building and they would receive 5 per cent of the selling price. According to the suit, Herzog sold the building to the Grundkes and did not pay Baines and Tindall the 5 per cent.

CIRCUIT JUDGE Harry M. Fisher has already dismissed charges made against the Grundkes.

Arnstein refused to disclose the questions asked of and answered by Herzog. (B7

Flite Cleaners Handles Any Job

by CAROL BUNTING

"If the Flite Cleaners can't handle every cleaning job that you and your family may have, then no one else can," said Harold Sorkin manager of the Flite Cleaners in Rolling Meadows shopping center.

Among their list of services that are unusual is their process for cleaning leather goods. Precious leather items can be made to look like new again if they are given the proper cleaning treatment. You normally have to send things like suede jackests and coats back to the factory, but now items such as these are handled daily by the Flite Cleaners.

THE IDEA of having this process right here in the area saves you time and is also more reasonable than you would expect.

Each item brought into the Flite Cleaners is given individualized personal attention. Each member of the cleaning staff is trained in the policy of treating each garment as if it were his own.

Flite Cleaners also do all of those little extra things that are so important to their customers. In fact in many cases a garment is returned to its owner in much better condition than when it was sent. The firm tries to always see that missing buttons are replaced, that hems and cuffs tacked, and if necessary they are equipped to make alterations.

ANOTHER FLITE specialty is knitted wear. They take added pains to see that all of the knit wear they receive is given very special attention. When you send your knitted suits and dresses as well as sweaters to the Flite Cleaners you have no need to worry about matting or the garment being out of shape; each garment is blocked to its exact size.

At the present time the firm is busy with their promotion of the "Handi-Hamper.' This is the wonderful storage service that is offered to the public by Flite Cleaners.

All you do is drop your soiled woolens into the hamper and when you have 12 garments in it the firm will pick it up, clean and store everything until you want it delivered in the fall. No more worry about moths for you over the summer months if you take advantage of this Flite Cleaners service.

Perhaps you are short for storage or closet space; then you would be interested to know that these storage facilities are available year around. Let Flite Cleaners take care of your off season garments and you can benefit with the added closet space too. (K

Reunion Picnic

The class reunion picnic of Mr. Turner's room was disappointing. There were only 8 members present, Alice Bowman, Alec Goloskewitsch, Bill Johnson, Tom Nunamaker, Patsy Oehlerking, Jim Post, Susan Schnell and Sonya Teets. All came with their families.

Mrs. Fred Lemke and her son, Allen, celebrated their birthdays. Doris had hers July 12 and Allen had his July 18.

Joan Klamer modeled her dress and offered a sample of her cooking at the 4-H meet at La-Grange high school.

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Doells were saddened by her death last week. She is remembered as a cheerful and helpful friend.

Only casualties of the recent floods were the Pasvogels' kittens. (A-12

Q. Is it up to the man or the woman, who has just been introduced, to say, "I'm glad to have met you," when leaving each other?

A. The man should take the initiative, while the woman responds with a smile and a "thank you."

Q. If one has just moved into a new neighborhood, and some of the neighbors have paid calls, how soon should one return these calls?

A. Within about two weeks. Failure to return these calls is a strong indication that the friendships are not desired.

Feeder Cattle Prices Up; Seasonal Decline Expected

by L. H. SIMERL

Cattle feeders soon may be making decisions to buy or not to buy, the highest priced feeder cattle since 1952.

Stocker and feeder steers at 10 leading markets recently sold at around $20 a hundred pounds, which was nearly $4 more than a year ago and nearly $7 more than in mid-1953. We have to go back five years to find so high a price this late in the year.

PRICES OF FEW, if any, major farm products have swung so violently as prices of feeder cattle. Before World War II Feeder cattle sold for $7 to $8 a hundred pounds. In 1951, at the peak of the latest cattle boom, the average was nearly $33.

Then the beef bubble began to collapse. The average for feeder cattle dropped to $25.50 in 1952 and then to $15 by September 1953.

The average price of feeders and stocker steers at Kansas City was $17.35 in 1953. It recovered to $18.97 in 1954, slipped a bit to $18.60 in 1955, and settled back down to $17.37 last year.

IT NOW APPEARS that this may be the best year for feeder cattle producers since 1952. Most areas have had more rain than in the past four or five years, and the average price of feeder cattle has moved from around $17 to around $20 in recent weeks. Of course, calves and the higher quality older cattle sell for considerably above the average price.

The rise in feeder cattle prices was caused by two things: (1) Prices of fed steers have been $2 to $4 a hundred pounds higher this year than they were in 1956, and (2) ending of the drouth in the central and southern great plains created a strong demand for cattle for grazing and restocking the ranges.

AVERAGE MONTHLY prices of feeder steers (at Kansas City) have been over the $20 level for a few months in the spring every year since price ceilings were kicked off in 1946—except last year, when the monthly average hung between $17 and $18 all year.

Prices of stocker and feeder cattle usually decline 15 to 20 per cent from a spring high to a fall low. The lower grades drop more than the higher ones, and older cattle more than calves.

The supply of calves and yearlings this fall will probably be 2 to 3 per cent below last year because there were fewer calves and cows on farms January 1.

THE CORN CROP in the western part of the corn belt is more promising than it was a year ago, offsetting much poorer prospects in Indiana and southern Illinois. The next 60 days, however, will be a critical period for corn. Feed crop and pasture conditions may worsen either in the corn belt or in the range areas, or both. Such developments could trim the demand for feeder cattle.

Another possibility is that prices of fat cattle will not make their usual summer-to-fall advance. They may not be so high in August, September and October as they were a year ago. If not, farmers may be less optimistic about buying feeder cattle than they were last year. (Fm

Outline Farm Safety Plan

Illinois farm families should plan to make a day-by-day check of leading causes of farm accidents during National Farm Safety Week, July 21-27.

O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specailist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, suggests the following schedule to focus attention upon the major causes of farm accidents and the means of removing them.

Sunday, July 21, relaxation: Banish fatigue and tension of routine living. Plan to avoid an overcrowded schedule — hurry hastens accidents.

Monday, July 22, home safety: Neat and orderly homes are safer homes. Have a place for everything, and keep everything in its place. Check electric and heating systems for proper equipment and installation.

Tuesday, July 23, livestock: Farm animals account for many accidents. Check and repair livestock equipment. Keep children away from animals at all times.

Wednesday, July 24, falls: Plan your activities so that you won't need to hurry. Hurry causes accidents. Neatness eliminates the causes of many falls.

Thursday, July 25, highway traffic: Courtesy is one key to traffic safety. Remove trees and shrubs from farm driveway entrances. Use and obey proper signals on the highway. Provide lights on all equipment moved after dark.

Friday, July 26, farm machinery: Make sure all farm equipment is in safe operating condition. Keep all guards and safety devices in place. Always stop machines before unclogging, oiling or ajusting them. Keep children away from machinery.

Saturday, July 27, review day: Review local accident prevention achievements. Plan for a year-long campaign against hazards. Check on farm and home hazards that might have been overlooked during the week.

Safety makes sense. (Fm

Wheeling Doers 4-H Club News

The last meeting of the Wheeling Doers 4-H club was held June 21. The 4-H pledge was given and Russell Runge gave a talk on caring for pullets.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Henning and Mrs. Hahnfeld. Baseball was played for entertainment. (4-H Corner

4-H CLUB ACHIEVEMENTS

Usually when I attend a 4-H meeting, it is one that has been planned or supervised by the extension service. In reality then, I have done much of the work and may be biased in my judgment as to how successful the meeting might have been. However, the report of the one following did not fall into that category.

This past week I had the opportunity to attend the achievement meeting of the Sewing Susies club, led by Mrs. Dorothy Rodewald. The reason I was invited to attend the meeting was that my daughters, Nancy and Betty are members of that club, and all parents were invited to the achievement.

THE MEETING was planned to start at 7 p.m. with a dinner. Before dinner, which really got under way about 7:15, we had the privilege of seeing what each member had done during the club year. Some of the things we saw were beautiful corsages and flower arrangements, attractive canned goods, pies, cakes, cookies, handicraft such as basket weaving, painting, etc. The main display was clothing that the members had made during the year. I wish I had counted the number of garments. There must have been at least 40 or 50 of them, all beautifully done by the 4-H members.

After being served a delicious dinner, we were entertained by members of the club and the last being a dress revue. Each member modeled the special garment she had made this year. It was really an impressive affair. It is surprising what good work these 4-H members can do.

AT SOME MEETINGS of this type, I have been the only man present, but this time there were 10 fathers there. I know it made the girls feel good to have that many fathers and mothers present.

My hat goes off to you, Mrs. Rodewald, and your 4-H Club members for such a fine affair. When you plan another, you can count me in.

Girls between the ages of 10 and 21 are eligible to become Home Economics 4-H members. Anyone interested should contact the Home Adviser's office in the post office building in Des Plaines. For the Agriculture club the requirements are the same, but contact my office at 201 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

See the County 4-H display at the North Cook Arlington Heights Fair at the Arlington Park Race Track on August 9-10-11.

AGRICULTURE IN IRAQ

I had an interesting visitor a few days ago. His name was S. Neftchi, Kirkuk, Iraq. He owns and operates about 14,000 acres of farmland in Iraq. Two of his brothers are with him on the farm. Approximately 5,000 of the 14,000 acres are irrigated. Without irrigation, there is not enough rainfall to produce good crops.

Neftchi has 1,000 acres of vegetables on his farm. He grows tomatoes, onions, cabbage, melons, watermelons and eggplant. He visited Cook county because of his interest in vegetables. Incidentally, he told me his tomato yield has between 9-10 tons per acre. This compares very favorably with the average yield in Illinois. Neftchi also stated he grew 5,000 acres of cotton.

SOME ADDITIONAL information on Iraq is that it is about the size of the state of Texas, has a population of 5,000,000 people, which, incidentally, is about the population of Cook county. Eighty-five per cent of the people are engaged in agriculture, 15 per cent in industry, and the average size of farms is 300 acres.

I repeat, he was very interesting to talk to. I hope he got some information which will be of value to him from our county. (Fm

Serious Tomato Disease Strikes McHenry County

Late blight of tomato, a serious disease that could cause millions of dollars of damage, has been found recently in commercial canning fields in McHenry county, reports M. B. Linn, University of Illinois plant pathology department.

This devastating disease may appear soon in other areas of the state where southern-grown transplants were used and then spread to other commercial fields and home gardens.

LINN POINTS out that late blight caused a $40 million loss in canning tomatoes in 1946 in the northeastern and central states. It also destroyed tomatoes in home gardens. At that time growers and gardeners were not prepared to combat the disease.

Late blight causes large, irregular, dark brown spots in leaves and stems and rotting of both green and ripe fruit. A pale green band of tissue usually surrounds the affected area of the leaf. The rotted fruit is greenish-brown with a rather firm but slightly wrinkled surface. Lesions on leaves, stems and fruit show the grayish, moldy growth of the fungus. Severely affected plants look as though they had been killed by frost. The fungus spores may be carried for several miles by air currents.

FORTUNATELY, something can be done to control this disease. Linn urges all commercial growers and home gardeners, especially in northern and eastern Illinois, to spray or dust their tomato plants with a fungicide as soon as possible. The best materials for late blight control are those containing fixed copper, maneb or zineb. These names will be found on the package under active ingredients.

Linn says a general-purpose garden dust containing both a fungicide and an insecticide may be used. Directions given on the container should be followed. The plants need to be sprayed or dusted at least every 10 days or oftener if rainfall is frequent.

Adviser Tours Experiment Field

The Northern Illinois Experimental Field Tour was held at the University of Illinois Experimental Fields south and west of DeKalb Thursday, July 11. A crowd of about 300 farmers, farm advisers and other interested people were on hand to hear the experts from the University explain just what each experimental plot was trying to show.

We made stops at eight different plots. These plots were. 1, Minimum tillage; 2, Phosphate (comparison of rock phosphate and super phosphate on a 4-year rotation of corn-corn-oats-alfalfa; 3, oat variety trials; 4, wheat, and rye variety trials; 5, wheat and rye disease trials; 6, Chemical weed controls; 7, alfalfa variety trials; 8, pasture mixtures and management.

On some of these plots it was too early to tell much. Of course, yields will have to be taken at harvest time in order to get any conclusive results.

On the minimum tillage plots, the corn that was planted directly behind the plow seems to be doing just as well as the conventional way of plow, disc twice, harrow, plant.

The phosphate plots haven't shown much response and, therefore, no conclusions could be drawn.

In the oat variety trials we got a very good picture of the rust resistant and rust susceptible varieties. The old Clinton 11 variety was almost completely taken by rust. The variety which seems to be about the best all around would be Clintland.

There are several wheat varieties that are disease resistant and stand well. The ones recommended would be Pawnee, Ponca, and Westar.

We have several new chemicals for weed control which are as yet in the experimental stages, but they seem to be giving quite satisfactory results.

On the alfalfa experiments, the ones which seem to be best all around are the ones we have recommended for several years, such as Ranger.

These experiments will be continued and another field day is being planned sometime in September. I believe everyone would benefit by being there to see the results of these experiments.

Corn Illustrates Modern Farming

Corn production prospects for this year served to emphasize the efficiency of modern farming.

In a very adverse planting season on one of the smallest acreages in years, the corn crop should come to about an average 3 billion bushel crop. The acres to be harvested will probably be not much over 70 million acres. This contrasts sharply with the 100 million acres of pre-hybrid corn days when production seldom reached the 3 billion bushel mark.

OPERATING IN this more efficient production are increased mechanization, heavier use of commercial fertilizer, more use of chemical weed controls and heavier planting of improved hybrids.

DeKalb crop reporters indicate that corn planting continued in most Corn Belt states up until July 10—probably the latest date in history. Much of this was replanting of flooded areas, but part of it represented first plantings of fields kept continually wet since May 1. Farmers were searching for the very earliest hybrids—the so-called "ninety day" varieties in the hope of getting some return from drowned out areas.

THERE ARE a few favorable factors to compensate for the risk of late planting. Hot weather and plentiful moisture bring late planted corn up rapidly. The early varieties accustomed to the long days of earlier summer of the far north, mature more rapidly in the shorter days of late summer and of locality further south. One Nebraska test indicated corn may mature as much as 13 days earlier when moved a few hundred miles south.

Soybeans and sorghum, 2 of this country's newer crops, both promise to reach record highs in production this year. Soybeans are planted in pretty much the same areas as corn.

In central Illinois, for example, thousands of farmers grow little else. A reduced corn acreage naturally goes into soybeans. A late planting season also favors beans because of their rather rapid maturity. This year's soybean crop is expected to reach the ½ billion bushel mark for the first time.

Use of Weed Killers Cause Widespread Crop Damage

Widespread damage to tomatoes and other crops has occurred this year from careless use of 2,4-D, reports M.D. Linn, University of Illinois plant pathologist.

This type of injury is not new, he explains. Damage has occurred since 2,4-D was first used as a weed killer. But, with wider use, reports of damage have become more numerous.

Linn reports that farmers have been spraying cornfields recently with 2,4-D to control weeds that have gotten out of hand as a result of frequent and heavy rains. In the past, cornfield spraying has contributed to losses in soybeans, tomatoes, peppers, grapes and other highly susceptible crops. Spraying roadsides, ditch banks, fencerows and even home lawns has also caused losses.

You can recognize this type of injury by a combination of symptoms, rather than by any one, Linn points out. Tomato damage shows in frilled edges of leaflets, prominent veins on lower leaf surfaces, fan-shaped and distorted leaves, distorted fruit and heart-shaped fruit on varieties that are normally round.

All of these are unmistakable symptoms of injury by 2,4-D and similar weed killers.

Because the high-volatile ester form of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T may release dangerous fumes for several days after spraying, it should not be used under any circumstances, Linn warns. These fumes may be carried for several miles by air currents and damage susceptible plants all along the way.

The low-volatile and amine forms are considerably safer, Linn points out. However, the mist from high-pressure spraying operations may be carried several hundred feet. For this reason these forms should not be applied when the wind is blowing from the sprayed area toward susceptible crops.

Those who use 2,4-D or 2,4,5-T should remember that these chemicals can be valuable for killing weeds. But they are not able to distinguish weeds from crop plants. No form, regardless to claims made for it, is safe in the hands of the careless operator, Linn concludes. (Fm

Welder and Farm Headaches . . .

Handy Machine Helps Make Quick Repairs

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

The nightmare of a farmer faced with planting and harvesting his crops is a breakdown of some critical piece of equipment. When a breakdown is compounded by the threat of rain or the closing in of dusk, the biggest aspirin tablet made is no cure for the accompanying headache.

Charge it off to experience and start over? It has been done. But it's an expensive way to deal with trouble, particularly since equipment breakdowns have a habit of recurring at the same rush periods every year. And those often are the very times when town repair shops have more work to do than they can handle.

These are the reasons which led to the development of limited input transformer electric arc welders designed especially for use on rural power lines. Thousands of them have been sold in recent years and nobody can calculate the dollars, time and frustration which they have saved.

It's not difficult to learn to weld, as many farmers—and farm boys—have discovered. Although most electric welding is done on mild steel, it is by no means limited to this metal alone. By using special electrodes, cast iron and high-carbon steel, as well as many of the alloy steels, also can be welded. Electric welders have many uses on farms and these are not limited to repairs alone.

In the repair field, however, farmers have used welders to build up worn cutting edges of plow shears or teeth of excavating buckets; to fix broken sickle bars and spokes; to remove rusty bolts and rivets, and to burn through pieces of metal which can't be cut in any other way. Repairs often can be made without removing the damaged part from the machine.

The new equipment which has been made and the old equipment which has been modified for special purposes are almost endless. Farmers have made such equipment as wagons and trailers, milk can trucks and racks, feed carts, elevators, buck rakes and many other things. The electric welder is an indispensable tool on numerous farms and its use is growing steadily in those areas where maintenance of equipment is a "must" to successful agricultural operations. The strength of a properly made weld is equal to or greater than that of the material welded. Where necessary, the weld can even be made water and air-tight.

Redwings Open Tourney Action Friday

Face Defending State Champs At Wing Park

by BOB FRISK

How strong is the defending state semi-pro champion?

Arlington's Redwings will find out Friday night at 6 p.m. in a first round contest of the 22nd annual state semi-pro tournament at Wing Park in Elgin.

The first round pairings have matched the Redwings with the Bill Erickson Boosters of Evanston, defending state champs who finished 7th in national play last summer. Dick Bokelmann will oppose Willie Harris in the twilight affair.

TOURNAMENT ACTION got underway Wednesday night with 2 contests. The first round of games will run through Saturday night with quarterfinal matches slated for July 24-25. The semi-finals will be Fri., July 26, and the consolation and championship contests are set for Sat., July 27.

Tickets for the tourney may be picked up at either Harris Pharmacy or Paddock Publications. Admission is 90 cents.

The Bokelmann - Harris duel will mark the second time this summer the two hurlers have faced each other. In the last affair Bokelmann twirled a no-hitter as the Redwings stopped the Chicago Tigers and Harris, 5-0. Erickson's Boosters picked up Harris from the Tigers for the state tourney.

EVANSTON HAS compiled an 8-2 mark this summer with losses to St. Barts and the Chicago Tigers. In '56 the overall record was 25-4 with tourney victories over Joliet Rangers, Elgin VFW, Peoria Cats, and the Sycamore Sons. Only Joliet of the above quartet is not represented in the '57 affair.

Evanston's starting lineup will include an infield from first to third of Jay Green, Ken McGonagle, Gene Wasco, and Bob Christoph. Art Sepke, former Redwing, and Don Wildner will share the catching duties. Fred Huebner, Doug Davidson, and Al Morrow will patrol the outfield.

The leading reserves include outfielder Jim Bragiel, second baseman Bob Lilla, and pitchers McGonagle, Jerry Belcow, Chuck Lindquist, Bob Laskowski, and Lou Rosin.

McGONAGLE, Wasco, Christoph, Heubner, and Sepke are the .300-plus hitters in the lineup with Sepke's .331 mark topping the club. McGonagle was the most valuable player in the '56 tourney.

Redwings' manager Bud Blumenthal has named his starting lineup with Ron Rutkowski at first, Lloyd Meyer at second, Tony Esposito at short, and John Perrill at third. Bill Sprincz, Bill Liedholm, and either Eddie Schultz or Ed Kolosowski will patrol the outfield. The latter 2 are from Kolski's.

Another Kolski's performer, Dick Rustenkowski, will handle the important catching slot, a position which has been weak all summer for Arlington. Rustenkowski, who played A ball in the minors, is rated one of the top receivers in the area.

BLUMENTHAL currently lists Bruno Fabris of Kolski's as his No. 2 hurler behind Bokelmann, but he was still trying to acquire Dave Hull of Oak Park and Purdue. Hull had a poor spring with Purdue but has been impressive in the semi-pro ranks this summer, recently blanking Skokie.

A team may "recruit" 5 additional players for the tourney. Blumenthal has also added Gene Modzierze, utility infielder, to his lineup but will probably drop him if he can acquire Hull.

Last Sunday Arlington dropped a 3-2 decision to a good Chicago Heights team with Bokelmann absorbing the loss. The contest was a league affair.

Fans can get to Wing Park for the tourney by heading west on Route 58. At Dunde Ave. in Elgin, turn left to McKinley and then turn right on McKinley to State. Turn right on State to Wing, then left on Wing to the field. The baseball diamond is located adjacent to the park's golf course.

Pairings

Wednesday, July 17—

Peoria Caterpillars vs. South Wilmington, 6 p.m. Aurora Tigers vs. Skokie Indians, 9 p.m.

Thursday, July 18— —

Elgin VFW vs. Harvey Stanfa Tires, 6 p.m. Crystal Lake vs. Peru Merchants, 9 p.m.

Friday, July 19—

Arlington Redwings vs. Erickson Boosters, 6 p.m.

Sycamore Sons vs. LaSalle, 9 p.m.

Saturday, July 20—

Johnsburg Tigers vs. Chicago Vets, 6 p.m. Mandy's Tap of Elgin vs. Canton, 9 p.m.

THE REDLEGS of the Arlington Heights Pony League have been having a little trouble winning ball games in the second half of action. Front row, left to right, Ken Jennings, Buzz Gregory, Ronald Suchomski, John Simpson. Second row, Skipper Witt, Bob Hutchinson, Terry Wood, Jimmy Nelson. Third row, Dave Brodnan, Ross Retterer, Tom Klement, Harold Nelson, manager.

Alhambra Tops Futurity Field

The $150,000 Arlington Park Futurity comes into the spotlight Saturday as Fred W. Hooper's speedy Alhambra tries to extend his unbeaten string to 4 straight against Mrs. John W. Hertz' Rulership, Rockmoore Farm's Leather Button, and T. Allie Grissom's Little Reaper.

Alhambra follows in the footsteps of stablemate Greek Game who won the affair last summer with Bill Hartack on board. Alhambra has won 3 straight, including the Primer and Hyde Park Stakes but was required to go all out in each.

Rulership, a son of Nasrullah and one of 2 supplementary nominees to this year's Futurity, has shipped in from California. Rulership has started only 3 times also, winning his first 2 in good company before finishing second to stablemate Fleet Nasrullah in the Westchester Stakes on the coast.

LITTLE REAPER looms the possible "sleeper" Saturday. Little Reaper failed by a scant head of dropping Alhambra from the unbeaten ranks here in the recent Hyde Park stakes and the additional sixteenth of a mile in the 6 furlongs Futurity should be what the doctor ordered. Earlier, Little Reaper won the Bashford Manor Stakes at Churchill Downs.

Leather Button is the other Futurity supplemental. The speedy Phar Mon gelding won the Joliet Stakes at Balmoral then dropped a photo decision to Alhambra in the Primer here to convince his connections he might be something special. In the Hyde Park he wound up third, but beaten by less than a half length for all the money.

Another Futurity probable is William S. Miller's stretch-running namesake in reverse, Rellim S. W., a non-stakes winner, but one who was second in the Gulfstream Park Dinner Stakes, third in both the Joliet and Primer, and fourth in the recent Hyde Park. In each he was closing ground at the end. (SP

Salvino's 240 Average Tops Kouros' 215

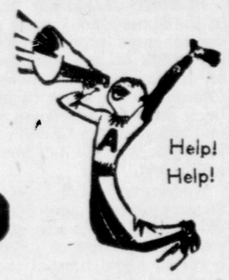
KICKIN' IT AROUND



by BOB FRISK

WHEN THE BROTHER of a Major League performer also appears headed for a brilliant baseball career, most people pass it off with, "Well, why shouldn't he be good? Didn't his brother hand-raise the kid?"

Bob Klaus

Although this would appear to be logical reasoning, that's not the case with Bob Klaus, All Big-Ten shortstop from Illinois who prepped at Grant high school and is now playing with the Chicago Yankees. We're not running a personal bandwagon for Klaus as it would appear the past few weeks, but we do feel the situation between him and his brother, Billy Klaus of the Boston Red Sox, is interesting enough to merit some attention here.

Bert Bertine, sports editor of the Champaign-Urbana Courier, pointed out that Bill has provided the inspiration for Bob but little actual coaching. Bob has actually "grown" into the game. His grandfather was a pitcher who once tried out with the White Sox and his dad was an outstanding semi-pro ballplayer. But when the younger Klaus was in his latter years of grade school and then in high school, Bill was playing ball but not in Fox Lake, Ill., where the Klaus family lives.

The Major League Klaus has not lived in Fox Lake since 1954 when he and his family moved to Florida. And for 8 years before that he was gone from spring to fall, playing professional baseball. Bob has had to pick up most of his ability on his own.

Illinois coach Lee Eilbracht, who was managing the Clinton, Ia., minor league team when Billy Klaus was the shortstop, feels Bob is further along at this stage than was Bill. Eilbracht comments, "He's a better fielder now than Bill was when I had him 9 years ago." Eilbracht is as enthused as anybody over the younger Klaus and marvels at his approach to the game. "He's an easy kid to handle, and he'll listen to you because he's anxious to learn."

Maybe the Klaus brothers will be the next brother act in Major League baseball. Right now the chances are encouraging!

THE ARLINGTON FUTURITY, slated for Saturday afternoon at Arlington Park, has proved to be one of the most important juvenile fixtures in American racing. Great two-year-olds and later three-year-old and handicap stars are numbered among its winners and contestants.

Some of the famous winners of the Futurity include Grand Slam (1935), Free For All (1944), Spy Song (1945), Mr. Busher (1948), To Market (1950), Hill Gail (1951), Hasty Road (1953), and Swoon's Son (1955). Some of the well-known also-rans are Whirlaway, 3rd in 1940; Jet Pilot, 2nd in 1946; and Middleground, 3rd in '49.

The Futurity is the oldest Arlington stakes event. The Hyde Park is older in years but had its inception at the old Washington Park. In the 27 previous runnings of the 6 furlongs dash, there has been only one dead-heat in 1937 when Tiger and Teddy's Comet shared the winner's purse.

Hasty Road has the best time at 1:10.2 and also grabbed the largest winning purse at $101,475 in 1953. Last year Greek Game with Bill Hartack up captured top honors with Jet Colonel and Etonian second and third.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY isn't too pleased with what has transpired since the story broke on the school's reported athletic violations. The school claims that because of the stories which came out recently, their recruiting program has been seriously impaired. The story came out just before the deadline for the first tenders made by Indiana.

Because of another conference rule, a school is not permitted to talk with a boy between the time the tender is made and the deadline. Indiana says that because of this, a number of outstanding boys didn't accept tenders who would have as they were afraid of what action would be taken against the school.

The Bloomington, Ind., school says they've received 30 to 35 tenders but felt many of the top athletes backed off when some member of the Indiana staff couldn't talk with them after the story came out and tell them what effect it would have on the school.

One writer believes Indiana's trouble cropped up over violations by recently hired football coach, Paul Dickens. The writer asserts, "Dickens came into the Big Ten with a reputation of being an aggressive recruiter." Some of the initial recruiting seemed to substantiate this belief!

WHEN THE CROWD at a Major League game starts rushing for a foul ball or homer, the safest thing to do is stay away! . . . Take the case of Mrs. May Lee, 71, of Milwaukee at a recent Braves' game . . . When the battle for the ball was over and it was in the possession of some Little Leaguer, Mrs. Lee had suffered a concussion, fractured rubs, cuts and bruises . . . A damage suit of $8,862 was taken under advisement against the Braves by a civil judge in Milwaukee.

After letting Dick Drott and Jim Bunning slip by them, the Cincinnati Redlegs made sure they got the next talented homegrown product . . . Claude Osteen, 17, who recently signed with the Redlegs, had a 16-0 record his senior year, fanning 221 in 103 innings, and he batted .441 in leading his team to the Cincinnati prep title . . . The year before Detroit had come into Cincinnati and signed Bunning, one of the American League's top rookies, and in '53 the Cubs spotted fire-balling Dick Drott and beat the Redlegs with a pen and contract.

The Oak Park semi-pro nine is loaded with some outstanding former high school stars of the Chicago area, but it's having trouble winning games this summer . . . Three of the pitchers include Tom Prucha of Downers Grove and Illinois, Carl McCollum of Downers and Indiana, and Lee Stange, who pitched Proviso to the state title a few years ago . . . Illinois' Bob Shoptaw from No. Riverside plays center and another Illinois performer, Ray Nitschke, of Maywood, operates in right . . . Proviso's Larry Buchanan, the state's outstanding legion player last summer with a .500-plus batting mark, works in both the infield and outfield.

THE KIMBROUGH TWINS, famed football halfbacks at Galesburg, will enroll at Northwestern next fall . . . Together they scored 39 touchdowns during the season and 18 extra points . . . Al gained 1,347 yards, a 12.5 average, and El gained 694 yards, an 11.4 average . . . And they also played on the school's basketball team which participated in the Elite 8 . . . Also heading for NU will be Fred Hecker of Sioux Falls, S. D., all-state in both football and basketball and state golf champ.

There's a youngster just out of grade school who already has the Major League scouts watching him . . . His last name is Peters and he plays with a club in Dundee . . . We would appreciate any further info on this young star.

Heights Legion Faces 'Must' Game Saturday

Southpaw Bob Miller will get another crack at Park Ridge this Saturday with a possible share of the ninth district title at stake.

The Arlington left-hander will take the mound against either Rich Peterson or Bob Gruber as the locals make their final bid for the ninth district legion crown.

Park Ridge is undefeated and Arlington has only 1 defeat, a 6-2 decision to the group from Maine high school. Peterson threw a no-hitter in that initial affair and Manager Lloyd Meyer's club should be ready to gain some revenge.

AFTER THE 3 P.M. affair at Park Ridge Arlington will take on River Grove in another league contest at 6 p.m. The latter game will be played at Recreation Park, providing the diamond is in playable condition. A game with Palatine is slated for Tuesday, July 23, at Palatine.

The locals' latest decision was a 2-1 victory over Palatine. Miller was at his best, yielding 5 hits and fanning 15. Bob also led the Arlington offensive attack with 3 hits, driving in the winning run in the seventh.

Orrin Helms hurled creditable ball for the losers, allowing 8 hits, striking out 11, and walking only 3. (Sp

Public Relations Chairman Explains LL Organization

by JANE FITZ-PATRICK
(Chairman, Public Relations)

It has been brought to the attention of members of the board of the Arlington Heights Little League that there are a lot of people who know very little about the league's organization.

The members of the board are all unpaid volunteers and devote many hours to try to work out the problems presented to the best advantage for all. Our managers and scorekeepers are also unpaid volunteers.

THE MANAGERS and coaches do a tremendous job working with the large group of boys. They spend a good many hours not only on game nights and days but also throughout the weeks, working on records, calling and re-calling boys, rescheduling rained out games, practices, etc.

Official scorekeepers are very necessary to our games and the persons in charge of supplying one for each of the games would be happy to receive more "yes" replies to their requests.

There is also a Little League Mother's club which is made up of unpaid volunteer mothers of Little Leaguers. These mothers do much to help the league in clerical work, registrations, planning and working for the annual dance, checking and packing uniforms for winter storage, etc.

WE HAVE over 800 boys (47 teams) playing this year, which requires about 300 adults to act as officers, managers, coaches, umpires, and scorekeepers. The games are scheduled on 11 diamonds provided by the school and park districts.

Expenditures run close to $7,500, including $875 for insurance, $6000 for equipment, and for registration and field care costs. The money for the league's operation is obtained through schedule book advertising, parent contributions, registration fees, dance ticket sales, sticker sales by Little Leaguers, local clubs and local business contributions.

The organization is doing its best and we hope it is correcting mistakes and improving with each new year and each new group of volunteers.

Orders Now Taken for LL Team Pictures

Little League team pictures may now be ordered at Paddock Publications, 217 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights.

Anyone interested can order a picture by leaving $1.00 with each order in addition to his name, address, and phone number and the name of the team, league, and town.

Pictures available include teams in Arlington with the exception of the Eagles and Phillies; all the teams in Prospect Heights; all the teams in Palatine; and the Hi-Lo Heating, Chamber of Commerce, Frank's Yanks, the Amvets, and Domas Tigers in Wheeling. (Sp

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

(Written while on vacation at Beverly Hills, California)

OUT HERE on the coast the Los Angeles newspapers have 2 topics which seem to be their favorites. Both may seem unusually important in this area but a lot of that feeling is due to the excessive publicity that both have received by the sports press. We refer to the coming of big league baseball to California and the breakup of the Pacific Coast Conference.

Big League baseball is pretty sure to come to California eventually. Whether the Dodgers will really come to LA next year and the Giants to San Francisco is questionable but possible.

An LA radio station carries a daily broadcast of the Dodger games indicating the interest of the fans out here plus the desire of the big league magnates to develop a following of fans in advance of the move, if it should come. The Los Angeles and Hollywood baseball teams of the Pacific Coast League are below par this year and not drawing well. Both would go out of existence if the Dodgers come to LA.

It seems to us that in the near future there will either be 3 major leagues or the American and National will be expanded to 10-team circuits. The 10-team idea seems to us the best. If the Dodgers and Giants leave New York for LA and San Francisco, it would seem to us logical to add 2 more cities to each league such as Minneapolis, Seattle, Denver, and Dallas and move Washington, the weak sister of the American League, to Miami. Of all these cities Minneapolis-St. Paul would be one of the finest fan drawing areas in the country with possibilities of exceeding Milwaukee which has turned out to be the best in the National League.

ONE OF THE REASONS why major league ball will expand to more franchises in the present leagues or more circuits, is the upsurge of interest in baseball in recent years in colleges and high schools and particularly the summer program of Little League, Pony League, Babe Ruth League, and American Legion Junior baseball which has hit the entire nation.

It takes longer to become a skilled performer in baseball than in any of the other team sports. Most players who reach the major leagues played ball from the time they were big enough to swing a bat.

The Little League program, providing opportunities for the best talent to keep on playing all the way up through high school and college, is sure to develop more talent for professional baseball.

Of course you cannot get away from the fact that it takes a lot of natural ability to be a great baseball player, particularly a hitter. The point we are making is that many boys with the ability have never gone into baseball at all or, if so, too late to make a success professionally. Little League and the leagues above it through high school age will discover the talent and encourage its development.

OF COURSE, we would be the last to encourage dads to set a goal of making their sons into professional baseball players. There is too much pressure, if anything, at the Little League age to attach great importance to the winning of games and other aspects of competition at a time when boys should become interested in baseball because it is fun and recreation. It is a good age for teaching skills and enjoying the game but the Little Leaguer is not yet ready emotionally to make the winning of games the life and death matter that some adult promoters and parents would have it. Another of the real handicaps in the Little League system is the lack of enough coaches, who really know baseball skills and how to teach them. Instead, the program becomes pretty much the organizing of teams and playing games. This helps but it is not enough.

Grade schools should be a partner in the program and provide the coaching of skills in the spring prior to the opening of the Little League summer schedule with grade school coaches continuing on in the summer to help with the program.

This is pretty much the way the high schools do with the American Legion program. It is much more important at the elementary school level. We wonder if anything of this kind is being done in the area served by Paddock Publications. We would appreciate being informed.

GETTING BACK to the matter of the Pacific Coast Conference, which probably is of little interest to midwesterners except its implications for the playing of the Rose Bowl game, we would say that the league is on its way to reorganization. Southern California has announced that after this coming season they will not follow the round robin plan which forces all teams to meet all others.

The big California schools with stadiums like the LA Coliseum seating 100,000 do not wish to play Idaho, Washington State and the 2 Oregon schools with their small following and small stadiums.

California, Southern California, and UCLA have been penalized by the conference for their recruiting and athletic scholarship practices but they still want to play big time football and are pretty certain to break away and play intersectional games for half their schedule with schools in other sections of the country.

The California teams have been playing Big Ten schools on a limited basis. Outside the Big Ten there are 12 institutions which have spectator accommodations to seat 60,000 or more fans including Tulane 80,000; Miami 76,000; SMU and TCU 75,000; Pennsylvania 74,000; Houston, Rice and Yale 70,000; Louisiana State 68,000; and Oklahoma, Pittsburgh, and Texas 60,000. Washington, Tennessee, North Carolina, Nebraska, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Florida, Duke, Colorado, and Baylor can handle more than 40,000 and of course Army and Navy can play in Baltimore or New York with vast seating arrangements to make a total of 24 possibilities of teams which would consider home and home schedules with the Southern Cal and UCLA and their 100,000-seat Coliseum.

Yanks Top Boosters, 5-0; Black's at Home Sunday

by RANDY THOMAS

As the saying goes, "When it rains, it pours!" How true that statement can be is being discovered by Black's Boosters baseball team, for since June 30 a combination of careless baseball and torrential rains have cost the Boosters 4 defeats in their last 7 games.

Monday night the weather man cooperated, but the Boosters chipped in with 2 errors plus a mental lapse on the part of 2 outfielders and poor base running to hand the Chicago Yankees 3 unearned tallies and a 5-0 win.

THE LOCALS will attempt to halt their losing skien tonight when they travel to Genoa for an 8 p.m. affair. Right-hander Bob Hamilton, who is 1-2 over the season, has been nominated to try and straighten the situation.

Coming attractions for the remainder of a big week of baseball include another arc-light tilt in Peru on Friday, a Saturday afternoon contest at Lake Forest and then a double header on Sunday at Recreation Park. Opposition on Sunday will be furnished by the Chicago Dodgers in the opener at 12:30 and the Chicago Majors in game 2. The proposed second game, weather permitting, will mark the second Sunday the 2 teams have tried to begin the League Triple Elimination Tournament.

PROVIDING THE skies remain blue and alll games are played, Manager Randy Thomas will use lefty John Sujack and Hamilton on Sunday. Southpaw Tony Sheer is slated for duty against the Peru Merchants, while Norm Nedde is scheduled to start for the first time since June 26 on Saturday. He also was to handle chores last night against Mandy's Tap if Recreation Park was playable.

For 2 2/3 innings Monday night starter and loser John Sujack held the fearful Chicago Yankees in check, and then through no fault of his own, saw himself behand 4-0 after another inning. What turned out to be the Boosters only white-washing of the year could just as easily have been a 3-2 victory.

THE aforementioned careless play began in the Yankee third. After catcher Bill Gawron led off with walk, Sujack struck out the next 2 batters. The inevitable then took place. Rich MacKenzie lifted what appeared to be an inning ending fly to right center, but Dan Vittum and Ron Ashley decided to draw straws to see who would make the catch. When the parley concluded, the ball had dropped, Gawron had scored and MacKenzie was perched on second where he scored when the Boosters' shortstop Scott MacKenzie threw wild to first on another easy third out.

The Yankees tried to give a run back in the locals' fourth but it was refused. Catcher Lee Fick led off with a line single to right, advanced to second on Gawron's bad pick off throw to first. Bob Getts fanned for the initial out and then Fick, lonely for company, attempted to steal third. Needless to say he found company at third, including the ball. Bob Dotts then whiffed for the second time to end the threat and the fourth frame.

THE VICTORS capitalized on 3 hits, a fielder's choice, and Getts' fumble in their fourth to take a 4-0 lead. With 2 gone, and right fielder Fred Lindquist on third, Sujack tried to pick him off. The surprised Getts took 1 quick glance at the runner, then saw the ball bound off his mitt as Lindquist scored. Bob Klaus, the Yanks' leading hitter who has had trouble with the Boosters' pitching, fanned to end the frame.

Manager Thomas opened the fifth with a long double over the leftfielder's head. However, he decided to stop at second, then changed his mind and was cut down sliding into third, illustrating to his teammates how not to run bases when behind. After Ashle ytook 3 strikes, MacKenzie lined a hit which would have scored Thomas.

BLACK'S LOADED the bags in the sixth after 2 were out, but the manager tapped into a force out to kill off the side. Two were on in the seventh when Bill Chambers sent what appeared to be a sure hit to center but second baseman Art Carlson speared it and tagged the bag for a game ending out.

Wednesday, July 10, Tony Sheer pitched a 3-hit 6-0 shutout, gaining his fourth win of the season against 1 defeat. Bill Yates, a recent acquisition of the Boosters, hurled the final frame and looked impressive in fanning 2 batters and getting a third to ground to third.

Fick and Ted Bakalar led the locals' 10-hit attack with 3 and 2 hits respectively. Bakalar drove in 2 tallies. (Sp

MP Brunings Win 2 Contests In Prep Loop

by BETTY KIRCHHOFF

The Mt. Prospect Brunings, after suffering a 9-2 whipping at the hands of Highwood, Tuesday, July 9, bounced back with victories over their home-town rivals, the Gunnells, and over Arlington, in the Northwest Suburban Prep League.

Highwood decided the contest with 3 runs in the first inning, as the first 5 batters hit safely. The Brunings were held to 2 runs and 2 singles by the winning hurler, Foreman.

THURSDAY, July 11, the Bruning nine fattened up their batting averages against the Gunnels. When the game was finally called at the end of 6 innings on account of darkness, the score stood at 16-2 in the Brunings' favor. Four runs in the first, fourth and sixth rounds provided the bulk of the victors' runs.

Brunings ..... 411 424—16-9-1
Gunnels ..... 100 001— 2-4-7

The Brunings would have made things a lot easier if they had saved some of the 16 runs for Sunday's contest against Arlington. As it turned out, they won, anyway, but by a slim 2-1 margin. The 2 twirlers, Peterson for the Brunings, and Kussow, for Arlington, were in complete control in the first 6 innings, except in the 4th when both teams pushed a run across. From then on till the 7th, when the Brunings decided to make it a photo finish, there wasn't much excitement. Bill McMillan led off the eventful 7th round with a single. He moved around on a hit by George Bork and scored the winning tally on Freddy Boedeker's one-base smash.

Owls Score 35 Runs In 3 Innings in Minors

What started out as a low-scoring affair turned into a nightmare for the Bisons July 9 in the week's highlight in the juniors division of Arlington Heights.

Winning Paddock Golf Tourneys 'Old Hat' to Mt. Prospect Leagues

The GOLFERS' DIRECTORY

Era Tool Gains Wayside Golf Lead

Kindler's Ice Cream Shop buried Barrett Insurance July 10 at Chevy Chase under a 5½-½ avalanche. At the time, Barrett Insurance led the Wayside League by 3 points but after the smoke of Wednesday's battle cleared away, they found themselves in second place behind Era Tool with Arlington Milk and Kindler's pushing the leaders. Only 5½ points separate the first 4 teams with the Paddock tournament drawing near.

Capt. Bob Botterman led the slaughter for Kindler's with plenty of help from Augie Bonucchi, Ed Keegan and Bob Pagliai. Barrett Insurance played well enough to win most matches with 3 of their 4 men shooting scores better than their averages but Kindler's were just a little bit better. Capt. Tom Barrett fought to a tie with Bob Pagliai to save ½ point for his team.

ERA TOOL took advantage of the inability of Black's Memorial Home to muster up a full team as they won 5½-½. In the only 2 matches played, Paul Marsh tied Ed Ryan and Norb Hruby defeated Jack Garrity.

John Fenner's 40-8-32, low for the evening, paced Continental Can to a 4½ to 1½ victory over Stefanik Food Store. John defeated Don Engstrom, Dick Jamieson beat Ed Condon on a forfeit and Joe Adams tied Lou Stefanik for the Can Company scores. Jake Marino won for Stefanik over Tom Strass for the only win for his team.

Arlington Milk also found a team shorthanded Wednesday night to chalk up a 5-1 win over Moody's. In the 2 matches played, Moody split even with Arlington Milk however they had to forfeit the remaining matches. Bob Taylor of Moody's defeated Tom McGrath while Bruno Jacobs, Dave Marini and Joe Foreman hauled down wins for Arlington Milk. Although Ted Pilat of Moody's has yet to enter the win column, he has not missed a night of play. If his teammates and also the rest of the league were as faithful as he, the race for the championship would be a lot closer.

Busse Motors Maintains Lead In MP Twilight

Busse Motor Sales maintained its role as the pace setter in the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect Twilight Golf league last week by staving off the bid of fourth place Licht's Paint Store with a 5-5 tie. Their efforts, plus a 3½-6½ loss to Wille Lbr. & Fuel by second place Mt. Prospect Jewelers and a 4-6 loss to Moler's Barber Shop by third place Fadaro's Redwood Restaurant, increased the Motor Club's lead over their pursuers to 7-1/6 big points.

While the leading clubs were floundering around with losses and ties, Hank's Pure Oil continued its forward surge with another lop-sided 8½-1½ victory. Their victim this time was Henry Kruse's Schlitz, the defeat plunging the beer team into the cellar.

PLAYING CONDITIONS were nearly ideal in Hank Sophie's Acres with the fairways playing long, and an unusual number of sub-40 rounds and birdies were reported. Some of the low scores: Kutchera and Driscoll, 38; Adams, Henneberg, Jilek, Clarke Robinson and Welky, 39. Birdies: Stofft No. 1, Driscoll No. 3, Jilek No. 8, Geiseke No. 9, Kutchera Nos. 13 and 15.

If ever there were defending champs in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournamer it's the Mt. Prospect Monday league.

This year's tournament Sunday, August 18, will pit first place squads of 14 local twilight leagues as of August 3 against each other at Nordic Hills country club. Actual naming of entries from the various leagues is up to league officials in each case, with deadline for entries, including checks for $14 for greens fees, August 10.

WINNING GOLF is getting to be "old hat" with Mt. Prospect golf leagues. The Mt. Prospect Monday league entries have won first place the past 3 years, including Whitton Realtors last year, the Lions club in 1955, and Mt. Prospect Hardware the year before.

Mt. Prospect Tuesday league entry (Whitton Realtors) tied Wulbecker Furniture (Rob Roy) in 1952, Mt. Prospect Wednesday league (Hook's Nursery) won the title in 1951. That makes 5 of the 9 championships taken by the 2 divisions of Mt. Prospect twilight golf league.

THE TOURNAMENT was held at Mt. Prospect country club 3 years, Inverness 2 years, and at Arlington country club in 1955. Last year it was held at Roselle. Winning team net scores the 7 years of the tournament, by the way, have been 285, 301, 286, 290, 303, 284 and 300.

Here's the lineup on former winners:

1950—Arlington National Bank of Arlington Heights league, Mt. Prospect C.C., Carl Engel, Tony Felker, Dick Dieball, Bill Shassberger.

1951—Hook's Nursery of Mt. Prospect Wednesday league, Herb Patheal, Bob Virgil, Ed Maha, Vince Carlson.

1952—tie; Wulbecker Furniture of Rob Roy league, Harv Laufman, Carl Hammerl, Paul Wulbecker, Ray Haase; and Whitton Realtors of Mt. Prospect Tuesday league, Fred Welsh, Jim Driscoll, Bill Hartman, George Peterson.

Traveling League To Start Sept. 14

Selection of sponsors and bowlers is the No. 1 order of business for bowling alley proprietors this week as they prepare for another organizational meeting of the traveling bowling league to operate this fall within the area served by Paddock Publications.

Alley proprietors, all of them franchise holders in the league, will meet Saturday morning at 11 a.m. at Gunnell's this Saturday to compare notes on sponsors, bowlers and averages, and to conclude other details of the league.

THE LEAGUE will start competition Saturday, Sept. 14, with 2 teams bowling at each of 3 different houses. Loop is planning 25 regular nights of play, plus 6 position nights when all 6 teams will compete at the same house.

Competition will start each Saturday at 6:30 p.m. Planning to cooperate in the league are the bowling houses of Hi-Way Recreation at Palatine, Arlington Bowling Lanes and Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights, Jack Gunnell's Bowling Lanes north of Mt. Prospect, Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling, and Ten-Pin Recreation at Barrington.

SQUADS ARE shooting for 910 average in each case. A couple of the houses involved are still looking for 190-195 average bowlers. Keglers of that calibre interested in possibly competing are welcome to contact Bob Paddock at Paddock Publications office regarding this. (Sp

The league is shaping into a real battle down to the wire with the deadline nearing for the qualifying of a team for the Paddock Tourney. Aug. 3 is the important date!

Tight Race for Top Slot In Rob Roy Ladies Golf

The Thursday ladies golf loop at Rob Roy has passed the halfway mark for the season with a tight race for first place. Only 8½ points separate sixth from first.

On July 11 the Arlington Hts. Pharmacy club moved into first place by a nose, having only a ½ point lead over Morava Stationery. Next week's results should be interesting when those 2 leaders meet each other.

URIEL COOK brought in a 34 net to spark the pharmacy into the lead with a 6 point win over Webber's. Webber's Capt., Clara Orwiler, hung up 3 pars and 15 putts for the day's low gross of 45. Webber's Marge Rowland got a thrill when she sank her approach shot on the 10th hole. Helen Adler starred with her 35 net when Jacob's moved in on Morava to gain 7 points and pulled the latter back into second. Jacob's has moved from tenth to third in the last 3 weeks and if they continue at this pace, Rhodes will have their work cut out for them next week.

Lucy Waller's 37 net helped Rhodes move into sixth place when they won 5 points from Town & Country. Thelma Geach's 35 net paced Senne's to a 6 point victory over O'Hare Stadium and moved them into 5th plaec. Capt. Edith Schober's 39 net led Charm Center into taking 5 points from Hagenbring's. The exceptional shooting of Idella Rentz, who brought in a 30 for the day's low net, pushed Des Plaines Liquor to a 5 point win over Spiegler's. Spiegler's Grace Thompson is making a habit of sinking her approach shots, hole No. 16 was the lucky one this time. Opal O'Brien, also of Spiegler's, carded a beautiful birdie on the 18th.

THE WEEKLY event was long holes. The first 3 positions played the back 9, holes 2, 6 and 9. The last 2 positions played the front 9, holes 13, 15 and 16. Winners: Positions 1, Clara Orwiler; 2 Irene Ciecko; 3, Thelma Geach; 4, Helen Adler; 5, Lucy Waller; Second league: Marie Glaser, Maxine Horwath.

A 'Chicago' Tea Party Is Now Possible

A CHICAGO TEA PARTY? Could be possible.

With the completion of the St. Lawrence seaway, Chicago is now linked to world ports. An ocean vessel arrived July 13 carrying the first all-water shipment of tea from the Orient into the heart of the Midwest.

THE SVANEFJEL of the Fjell-Oranje line, carrying 678 lead-lined chests of tea, was met by Virginia Dodge, queen of the Chicagoland Fair, and officials representing the city of Chicago, Lipton Tea company, Great Lakes Overseas, Inc., and the Fair.

Newsmen were invited to help Miss Dodge and ship's captain toast to the all-water link between Chicago and Ceylon at a buffet and tea aboard ship Saturday.

W. K. McKinney, of Lipton's Chicago office, said the tea unloaded at Navy Pier would be moved to Lipton's Streator plant for blending, processing and packaging. Saturday's shipment will be on consumer's shelves throughout a 15 state area by the end of July, he explained. (BB Home Selected —Vogue

Drivers License Fees Increased

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier today called motorists' attention to the fact that increases in fees for drivers licenses, original certificates of title or duplicates, and automobile junking certificates are now in effect.

Governor William G. Stratton signed the measures, passed by the recent General Assembly, yesterday and they became effective today.

THE DRIVER license fee has been increased from $1 to $3. The additional $2 will be paid into a special fund to help finance high school driver training programs throughout the state.

The fee for an original certificate of title or a duplicate was increased from 50 cents to $1. Automobile junking certificates, for which there had previously been no charge, will now cost $1.

SECRETARY Carpentier also said that applications for any of the above which were received by his office prior to the close of business on July 9 will be processed at the old fees. Applicants who forwarded the $3 driver license fee prior to that date will receive a refund of $2. (BB

The Fence Post

Letters to the Fence Post must be short and concise. All letters must be signed, but names will be withheld from publication on request. Letters should be addressed to The Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

What's Happening to All the Farms?

What is to become of the beautiful farms which Arlington Heights should be so proud of? I have been a resident of this town for 11 years and have witnessed the general disintegration of these prized objects for as long as I have lived here.

Just a few years ago you could go fishing in Salt creek or in only 5 minutes be in the solitude of the open air for miles around. Now we are becoming a town littered with cheeseboxes.

I can remember when I used to play up at "the old barn," which now has been turned into a thriving subdivision. Although I personally resent this move, I can't help but praise the wonderful, wonderful people who live there now.

One thing worries me. Can we salvage what is left? What about the farms from Thomas st. to Palatine rd. and beyond? Our country says that a man is the master of his property. If these farmers are offered a high enough price, will they sell? Chances are that the answer is yes. Then we will be up to our ears in tri-levels, bi-levels, cheese boxes and super hi-ways. What about the corn, the beans, the dirt road, the tree house and all the other simple things which make Arlington Heights a "home town?" They will simply turn into a mass of TV antennae.

Another problem is created. What kind of people will buy these houses? Ex-farmers?

Can't we start a movement in Arlington Heights called, perhaps, "Crusade to Save the Farms," "Builders Go Home" or "Keep Arlington Heights Green?" Maybe it would offer a plea to the farmers, encouraging them, begging them to hang on to their land and discourage these men with their foot in the door from "taking Arlington Heights down with them."

By using a nearby town as a sterling example, the slogan of this new organization will be "Remember Buffalo Grove."

Will my children and my children's children see farms in Arlington Heights? It's up to the farmers.

Rolling Meadows Police Are Efficient

I would like to take this opportunity to express my deep appreciation to the Rolling Meadows police department for their prompt and efficient action when we called them.

We moved into our home on April 15, 1957, and since that time have had 2 occasions when we called upon them for help. The latest, and I hope last, was Wednesday, July 10, when my son, Jimmy, mangled 2 fingers in our lawnmower. My wife called and within minutes Officers George Gallanis and James Ruggio arrived, administered first aid and rushed my wife and son to a doctor's office in Palatine. Upon arrival at the doctor's office, Officer Gallanis stayed with Jimmy, reassuring him and assisting the doctor. I am told that my son went through the ordeal like a man and I'm sure if this is true it was only because of the kindness and patience of Officer Gallanis.

The first occasion we had to call was about 6 weeks ago when my daughter fell and cut her lip. At that time Officers Gallanis and Frank Ortiz answered our call and took us to a doctor's office in Palatine where she received the proper medical attention.

I sincerely appreciate the fine service given to us by these 3 officers and hope, in some small way, this letter stresses their importance to our community. As long as men like these are on our police force I will never worry about the treatment my family will receive in case of emergency.

The Facts About Sidewalks

There seems to be some misunderstanding in Arlington Heights regarding the board of trustees policy on sidewalks.

These are the facts:

1. The action initiated by the previous board to install sidewalks near schools is concurred in by the present board of trustees.

2. There is no reason why every home in our village should have a sidewalk. Safety and security are the basic tests as to where need exists.

3. The board's only interest is in immediate school areas, where obviously automobile traffic should be separated from school children as recommended by the National Safety Council.

4. The traffic hazard varies in each school area. At Miner school, many children must use Kensington rd. where traffic is often heavy. (One child has already been injured on this road). But in all school areas, the hazard is serious enough to make sidewalks advisable adjacent to the school.

5. How far from the school site sidewalks should be installed depends on the traffic flow peculiar to that school. But in general, this will mean about a 2 block area around the school.

6. People who do not consider the traffic hazard as serious overook the rapid growth of our school population, with the elementary school enrollment increase from 630 in 1947 to 3200 currently, and 4100 estimated for 1959.

7. The board of trustees is currently considering the south side area for a first move on sidewalks since 3 schools are involved. Most houses near these schools already have sidewalks, and a study by the board's street committee indicates that if only 60 pieces of property in the area added sidewalks, sidewalk routes would be available for any child attending any one of these 3 schools (Park, Our Lady of the Wayside, and the junior high.)

8. Accordingly, these 60 property owners have been requested to cooperate by using a private contractor of their choice to put in their sidewalk rather than have the village do it.

9. The board, of course, has the legal right to cause these sidewalks to be put in as a matter of public safety. If the Various property owners concerned do not willingly cooperate, the board may be forced to take such action.

10. However, since this is an urgent matter of safety for school children which most of our citizens strongly favor, it is believed that the property owners concerned will fully cooperate.

Back Home and Astonishment

I recently returned to Arlington Heights after an absence of several years, and last week picked up a copy of the Arlington Heights Herald for the first time since I've been back. I was astonished at the improvement in the paper. I spent most of the morning reading your wonderful paper, so full of interesting articles. I just wanted you to know that I think you're doing a wonderful job in putting out a top paper for the town.

It May Be A Long Fight

The Way We See It

Gamblers and the Schools

The gambling interests had no trouble in getting the majority of both houses of the state legislature to vote for them in the last session at Springfield.

Their jai alai bill went through the legislature quietly as if it knew its way around, kind of like it was among friends. Reports are that there was a little side money, but this matter is being quickly hushed up.

The Governor who has an advisory committee acted surprised that the gambling bill got to his desk. He immediately vetoed it after it began to accumulate the aroma of another Hodge affair. That kind of publicity obviously won't do the Republican party any good. In this case though you would not be able to draw any party line. Both are in it neck deep.

What makes this chronicle even sadder is to recall that just a few week's ago heaven and earth were moved at Springfield to prevent an extra penny additional money for schools which sorely need this money.

We heard all kinds of grave and facile arguments motivated by high sounding purpose to sustain integrity of government and the solvency of state finances. Yes, indeed, these arguments prevailed and the school kids were left to forage as best they could.

Yet, a chieftain of a gambling clique wants a bill that will be of benefit to whom? Why to gamblers of course. And what do our representatives at Springfield do? They bow down in quiet obeisance. They gave an unobtrusive "yes" to the gamblers and a raucous "no" to the school kids.

Only the courage and sense of public duty by our public organs of communication working out of Springfield prevented this barebold conspiracy against the people of the state of Illinois from becoming a reality.

Only the constitutional doctrine that sustains free speech and a free press can protect the public from those who either by design or negligence would turn government to selfish and corrupt purposes.

We would like to hear the explanation from each senator and representative at Springfield who voted yes on jai alai and no on school aid how his conscience was telling him or her he was working in the public interest. Each has pledged himself to serve faithfully.

The common problems that face us today in Illinois are too demanding, too exacting on all, for us to have to put up with the kind of irresponsibility we have just witnessed at Springfield. The people of Illinois wil have to wake up.

Citizens of Illinois should not have to look toward Springfield with alarm every time the legislature is in session with the thought "Wonder what they're up to" and sigh with relief when the boys are sent home.

This legislature has left in the minds of the people of this state a spirit of suspicion and distrust.

This is a sad commentary on the acts of those who lay claim to kinship to the two political faiths represented by Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln.

In our judgment both our political parties are in need of a rededication to those principles and ideals on which they were founded. What is needed is a vision of leadership to give the mass of our citizenry a common faith in the integrity of our type of society and a hope for the future.

It seems like the so-called old-line politician is out of step with the times. What we need at Springfield and elsewhere are men and women who understand the needs of their constituents, particularly those things that we can get along without.

We need a fresh approach to the problems of legislation and administration at Springfield, and that can come from those who unequivocally regard public office as a public trust. (FP

'Open Records' Bill Is Signed

Gov. Stratton has signed a freedom of information bill applying to meetings of local, county and state government units.

The freedom of information bill originally was drawn along the lines of a model law proposed by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society.

But it was amended by the legislature so that it does not apply to informal meetings or caucuses of governmental bodies where no public business is actually transacted.

THE BILL requires that all meetings of governmental units at which business is transacted must be open to the public. It provides a fine of $100 or a 3-day jail sentence or both for violations.

Sponsors of the bill in the legislature included Walter Reum (Oak Park), Claude A. Walker (Forest Park), and John W. Carroll (Park Ridge).

Property Tax Assessments Equalizations Approved

The state legislature, in a 3-part packaged program, has established machinery for the equalization of property tax assessments within a county.

Since 1946, the state has equalized between counties by issuing county multipliers. However, because townships assess at various ratios of so-called 100 per cent value, a single county multiplier does not cure internal inequities.

FOR INSTANCE, if the assessor in township "A" assessed property at 10 per cent of schale, value, the assessor in township "B" at 15 per cent, and the assessor in township "C" at 20 per cent, a county multiplier of 4 applied to the assessments of the 3 townships would not bring them up to the same level.

To correct such ills within a county, Sen. W. Russell Arrington of Evanston, and others, sponsored remedial legislation at the 70th general assembly.

The first part of the program makes it the mandatory duty of the county board of review to equalize assessments at the township level in the same manner in which the state equalizes at the county level.

TO PROTECT both taxpayer and taxing body, an amendment to the bill was passed to provide that assessments of a township may not go up or down by more than 25 per cent of the previous year's equalized valuation, additions and depletions excluded.

Part 2 of the Arrington program was legislation to strengthen the board of review.

The 2 members appointed by the county judge must in the future have experience or training in real estate values and property tax administration. In addition, a full time clerk is provided for the board in counties over 25,000 population to collect and analyze property transfers and property appraisals.

The board of review may meet earlier than the third Monday in June to direct the clerk and go over the data collected by him. This will insure that the board will gain "background" before it performs its equalizing duties.

THE THIRD PART of the program extends the permissive Supervisor of Assessment law to all counties over 150,000 population, except Cook and St. Clair. If this office is established, the state will pay half of the supervisor's salary.

Northwest suburban school officials are particularly pleased at legislation providing for equalization of assessments at the township level.

The new program, with an effective date of January 1, 1958, is a good example of home rule legislation. Assessment is a local responsibility; by passing new laws and strengthening existing ones, the general assembly has provided a solution to a local problem. The solution should work.

What Relation Does Church Going Have with Daily Life?

by REV. WILLIAM McGILL

The man was saying, "By the time I put in a full day's work and get home at night, I'm tired. I don't have energy or time to go to meetings or to take on chores that other people ought to be doing."

The other man replied, "I know just how you feel, but you're overlooking a very important fact. We all happen to be persons put on the earth. If some of us do not carry our share of the human load, somebody will carry it for us. And the people who are willing to assume your share might be the very people least worthy of carrying the load they try to carry."

"You may be right," said the first, "when I've got it made, I'll plan to give some of my time and energy to these good causes you are always telling me about."

BUT HE PROBABLY won't. For one thing, the mere fact that he is so busy and so important (so far as he can judge) makes him a likely candidate for a coronary occlusion. And where then shall his fine ambitions be for "when I've got it made?" What shall his wife and children remember of him, except that he was always in a hurry and "there's his briefcase just where he always left it each night."

He probably won't do what he thinks he will because by the time he is ready to give himself to his church and his community that part of his mind and spirit which is needed now will have atrophied and weakened through not being used. He thinks he'll go to church whe he gets older — But even now he does not know that the Gospel is for life, eternal life, and not just a parade ground on which to get ready for dying.

He "blew his stack" when he heard that the Church was talking about a tithe — "how could I afford to give them 10 per cent of my income." If he had ever realized they were talking about time as well as money, he might have ruptured a blood vessel. "Almost seventeen hours a week, what could they do with that kind of time? My time is valuable."

SO HE COMPROMISED for less than he tips the waiter and he drops in at the Lord's house 3 or 4 times a year. Each visit seems to convince him that it really does not have much to do with where he lives and works.

It never occurs to him that a stranger never gets the feel of any place he visits. Nor does it occur to him to ask whether where he lives and works has much to do with the preaching and prayand reading that takes placeing and reading that takes place in the church.

Who is he? Why don't you ask the man in the mirror when you're shaving? He might know.

Arlington Heights Lifted Out of Mud Forever in 1917

50 Years Ago

July 19, 1907

Arlington Heights — Ed Scharringhausen now rides in one of the celebrated Staver "Jumbo" Surreys, a substantial, well built rig (said to be the best around the Heights). It will last him for years. It is so well finished, painted and varnished that he can use it for a mirror when he wants to shave.

The residence of J. H. Schierding was the scene of a very pretty wedding July 17, when Miss Blanche and Mr. Louis Reuse were married.

HELL HOLES in Hanover — Regarding recent disturbances at Lena Bode's, proprietor of Hanover's blind pig, it might be said that there are other houses in the neighborhood that are run in far greater defiance of the law and moral order.

While it is acknowledged that the blind pig has a bad influence on those in the immediate neighborhood, those houses on the Chicago road have a far greater sphere of influence; young men scarcely yet in their teens driving as far as ten or fifteen miles to patronize these places.

Mothers and Fathers do not realize the bad influence these houses have on their children. There is not a boy or girl of ten years of age within miles that do not know what they are and what happens there daily and if you think it is wise for your children to know this, let them stand.

MORE MORALLY degrading hell holes can not be found on this earth than these houses, they are the places that foster the most vile vice, that harbor the most degraded people that lead your children on to iniquity and the worst disease that the human mind can conceive.

Big crowds are expected to the Wheaton Chautauqua. Hector the Black Knight, is speaking daily. He gives a description of the battle of Shiloh which General Sherman said was the finest description of the battle he ever heard in his life. Mrs. Tongier is drawing the largest crowds down the state. Her lecture on Shasta Daisies or the Luther Burbank Farm is said to be one of the finest lectures ever given by a woman in Illinois.

40 Years Ago

Saturday, July 14, was a great day for Arlington Heights —the greatest day in her history. It meant her official entrance into the city class. No more can she be called a village.

All Arlington Heights, forgetful of past differences, joined in the flag raising and dedication of the ten miles of asphalt streets that will ever mark the progressiveness of our people. The many visitors rejoiced in the success that has met the grand effort, which has lifted Arlington Heights out of the mud forever and made her the delight, not the dread of all autoists.

The draft of the registered men will take place this morning. Within 24 hours every man in this territory will know his standing. We are publishing the draft numbers for Palatine and Wheeling townships in this issue. Keep them for reference.

IF THE MAJORITY of the citizens of this township had attended the Red Cross lecture at Seip Auditorium Tuesday evening, the number of workers for that cause in Palatine, would be numbered by the hundreds instead of by the tens. Palatine people do not realize what the Red Cross means and what grand humanitarian work it accomplishes. Whether an American or a German, every man should give the society his loyal support.

Arlington Heights, the Athletic Club will move about August 1 into their new quarters, the rooms over Landmeier's hardware which have been remodeled and fixed up for an up-to-date club room, parlor, reading room, billiard room, bath, etc.

Itasca — Mr. Geo. Benhart celebrated his 70th birthday July 12. Many relatives and friends were present to make the occasion a happy one.

Palatine — Dr. F. A. Gibbs has found the Oakland Six, which he recently purchased from Henry Schoppe more than living up to the guarantee for mileage per gallon of gasoline. He recently took a 148-mile trip and only used 6 gallons and since he has owned the car has traveled 535 miles on 22 gallons which is over 24 miles per gallon. Such a record knocks in the head all talk about a 6-cylinder car being gas eaters.

About 85 relatives of the Turner descendants were present at a reunion held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turner of Roselle June 26. The guests were all descendants of George, Robert, John, Leighton and Sarah Turner who came from England in the year 1818.

July 18 will find Fred Meeske Meat Market and Grocery in a new location two doors north of his present location.

THE NEW valuation placed upon the lands in Cook county has not yet been made public as the various assessors have not announced the extent of the increases. The assessed valuation in Du Page county has been made public with the result that many tax payers have become very much alarmed over the probable taxes which they will be asked to pay.

Henry Gieseke, who was born in 1860 in Germany, died July 6 at the age of 67. In 1882 he married Ida Quindt. Leaves three sons and a daughter plus other mourners.

Conrad Henry Schroeder died July 3 of a stroke. He was born in 1867 in Elk Grove.

VIEWS SHUTTER VIEWS

by FRED GAREISS

What makes a picture? That question again? It's been pretty well established by now that light does the trick, and outdoors there's usually plenty of it around.

Indoors we generally don't have enough. That's where flash lamps come in. They're sort of pint-sized, private packages of light, shooting out enough to take one picture just about anywhere you'd like.

THEY COME IN many sizes, depending on how much light they flash, how quickly they release it, and how long the flash lasts. When you use the kind your shutter is designed to synchronize with, the shutter will open just as the picture is receiving the greatest amount of light the lamp can throw.

Never use any lamp size other than the one mentioned in your camera manual. If there is no synchronization, the shutter will open either before or after the lamp flashes and you won't get a picture.

Make sure, too, that the batteries in your flash holder aren't more than six months old or past their expiration date. If they flunk either of these tests, replace them with new photo-flash batteries; regular flashlight batteries don't have the necessary punch.

LAMPS OF ONE size always flash the same amount of light. However, as the light travels farther away from the lamp, it begins to fade out pretty rapidly. A subject five feet from a lamp receives, for example, 50 per cent more light than one six feet away. Since any exposure depends on how much light shines on the subject, flash exposures are figured by the distance from the lamp to the main part of your picture.

Your camera manual probably has a table of flash guide numbers. It may look like it was written in code—to put it to work first pick a shutter time. This usually depends, as it did outdoors, on whether the subject is moving and, if so, how fast.

If the subject is completely stationary, you may shoot at 1/25, since the comparatively slow shutter time allows the room lights to assist by making the background a little lighter and more detailed. Next line up the shutter time with the kind of lamp you are using. Presto—the guide number.

Now merely divide this guide number by the distance from the flash lamp to the subject, and the result is the lens opening for the picture. For fast, faultless flash arithmetic there are several flash guide computers you can purchase from your local photo dealers.

STEER CAUTIOUSLY when attempting flash pictures at distances greater than 10 feet.

Here the light from the flash becomes quite a bit weaker, and your picture will depend on the kind of film you use and upon the maximum opening of your camera lens.

Record Rains Flood Northwest Suburbs

A BOY WHO DIDN'T have to stay home to mop out his basement was one of the few who apparently didn't mind the high water at all. Well-equipped with rubber boots, he rode around in the water in front of the Jewel Tea store in Mount Prospect. At the bottom of the picture, taken from inside the store, is shown a part of bag of salt placed there to prevent damage to windows.

NORTHWEST HIGHWAY near Central rd. in Mount Prospect was more than a foot deep in water Saturday morning, after the water level had dropped considerably from the Friday night high mark. The Jewel Tea store in the background underwent a severe soaking.

WHEELING'S DUNHURST HEIGHTS subdivision sloshed its way through its second flooding in as many months last weekend. Many families had to be evacuated by police and fire departments and by Coast Guard detachments rushed to the scene.

Robert Harsch Takes Bride in Park Ridge

Robert William Harsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Harsch, 28 S. Salem, Arlington Heights, took as his bride Miss Marilyn Helen Zitzler, daughter of the Earl W. Zitzlers of Park Ridge, at 10 a.m. high mass June 22 in St. Paul of the Cross church, Park Ridge. Monsignor James Duffin officiated, and Les Gracyk sang the mass and "Ave Maria." Mrs. A. Lindauer was organist, and Richard Endsley, the bridegroom's fraternity brother from Dubuque, Iowa, was soloist.

The altar was decorated with potted palms and bouquets of white gladioli, snapdragons and carnations.

The bridal gown was white lace over satin and net with a Queen Anne collar embroidered with sequins, long sleeves and fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt fell in a chapel train. A short veil was held with a crown of white pearls and the bridal bouquet was white orchids and stephanotis.

Judy Zitzler, sister of the bride, was maid of honor in a pale yellow crystalette street-length dress with full skirt, and a yellow taffeta cummerbund tied in a large bow and skirt-length sash. Her picture hat had a white gathered net brim and band of white daisies and she carried a basket of white daisies and ivy.

The bridesmaids' dresses were identical in style to that of the maid of honor's but in white crystalette with the yellow cummerbunds and sashes. Their hats were the same and they carried baskets of yellow daisies. Bridesmaids were Margaret Zitzler, sister of the birde and Mary Ellen La Roy of Evergreen Park and Claudette Uting of Belvidere, Ill., who are nurse friends of the bride. A Letter to the Children

Dear Peg:

A Letter to Megan and Bridget Visiting Their Grandparents—written on the third day of their absence from home.

Since you have gone, my darling girls, my housework is a joy —
There's not a crumb upon the floor and not a single toy.
The slip covers all stay right in place with just a morning pat,
And the sofa pillows you left so squashed are sitting nice and fat.
Where you often leave old glasses of your favorite cherry drink,
There's not a single glass or dish to carry to the sink.
The living room stays nice and neat throughout the livelong day —
It really makes a difference, dears, when you both are away!
The bathroom is another place that needs so little care,
And each morning when I wash my face and want to comb my hair,
The comb and soap are where I left them both the night before,
And your towels are hanging on their racks instead of on the floor.
The bath tub, sparkling white and clean — is so smooth where one must sit,
Instead of draped with bathing suits and full of sandy grit!
Yes, the bathroom too stays nice and neat throughout the livelong day —
It really makes a difference, dears, when you both are away!
And your own room—ah, yes, your room—as pretty as any I've seen,
Just like a picture from a book or House Beautiful magazine.
Each dolly is sitting in her place, the poodles are in a row,
The paper dolls are all picked up and the doll house stands just so.
The rocking horse is in his place next to the Polar bear,
Your shoes are in the closet and not beneath your chair.
Your bedroom too stays nice and neat throughout the livelong day —
And, frankly, I am getting tired of seeing it this way!
For a home that has no child, a pristine home may be,
But a home that shelters children gives up this quality.
It values only children's joy, their laughter and their tears,
It's there to listen to their songs and protect them from their fears.
So, you see my darlings, though our home is tidy all the day,
It makes me very lonely, when you are both away!

My love,
Mama (S

A Lady Driver Faces Dialect

by MARY

I have just fought my way through 2000 miles of southern accents and the experience is nerve shattering. I have always rather prided myself on my wonderful ability to understand any accent that happened to be thrown my way.

For years I have interpreted for Father when the late, late show is one of those old English things where all the actors talk as though they had a mouthful of pins. Every scene would be punctuated by his asking, "Whadhesay? Whadhesay?" And, from my superior knowledge, I was able to clue him in as to what was going on. Which was hardly ever anything.

BUT, I HIT one dialect in South Carolina that had me reeling on the ropes. It was at this filling station out in the cotton country. So I said to the man to fillerupwithpremium. So he did. But, from then on we sort of lost contact. Both of us went off on tangents of our own.

He asked me something and I said that we were from a Chicago suburb. After some little bantering back and forth accompanied by toothy smiles on both our parts, I found out he wanted to know what weight oil made the insides of my car happiest.

BOTH OF US sighed in relief at having made that hurdle. However, it turned out that we were both garrulous so the going got pretty rocky. He asked me something else so I told him that I had 4 daughters but the oldest one was home earning money for school clothes.

I thought he looked a little startled but he was a game one. So, come to find out what he wanted to know was how far I had driven that day. This awful disparity of ideas that we were tossing at each other made me choke on my coke while my brains became rattled. He kept taking surreptitious glances in my direction when he thought I wasn't looking. Then he would look pityingly at my young.

THEY WERE simply convulsed and retired to roll around on the floor of the car leaving me to fight the good fight alone. Mr. South Carolina and I hit on one thing we both understand and that was the amount of the tab. Money in any language sounds pretty much the same.

I ran to the car where he wished me well and I wished him the same but, believe you me, we did it in pantomime. (S

Modern Etiquette.

Q. When a girl is walking along the street with a man and he speaks to someone she doesn't know, should she speak also?

A. She should smile and nod her head. This holds true also for the man, should she speak to an acquaintance.

Q. If a girl is to be married to a man who has been married previously, is it proper for her to have a big wedding, wear a white gown and veil?

A. Certainly. The fact that her bridegroom has been married before does not alter the fact that this is her first wedding. If she has been married previously, she should not have a big wedding nor wear white.

Parents Should Start Now To Plan for 'School Days'

"Although summer is here, school days are practically around the corner and it is time for parents to start thinking about getting the young ones ready for school again," Dr. John B. Hall, director, Cook county department of public health, said this week.

"Starting to school is a big step for your child to take. It involves his being on his own for the first time with new adults, new children, a new place and new things to do. It is your responsibility as a parent to make sure that your child is physically and emotionally ready for this new world," Dr. Hall continued.

EVERY CHILD should have a preschool physical examination. Height, weight, posture, vision and hearing should be carefully checked. Often problems of school beginners' can be traced to correctable physical defects.

To get the most out of school, he needs to be physically ready for it. Make sure that he has a thorough physical and dental examination before school begins. This should be done by your family physician and dentist who know your child best.

"With school come more chances for exposure to communicable diseases. This is not the school's fault—it is because your child is becoming a part of a bigger world. To help prevent illness, check up on immunizations. See that your child is adequately protected against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox. Also make sure that he has finished his series of polio immunization," Dr. Hall pointed out. "Find out what your physician says and what school regulations are regarding keeping your child at home when he has a cold, a fever or rash—or other symptoms. It is one big way to help make sure these little illnesses stay little and are not passed on."

YOUR CHILD'S HEALTH record is a very important part of his school record. The school principal is very eager to have your child's complete health history at the school registration.

So when you register him for school be ready to answer these questions:

(1) Has he had a recent physical and dental examination? If so, bring records of results.

(2) What immunizations has your child been given? When?

(3) What serious illnesses has your child had?

(4) What communicable diseases, such as chickenpox, measles, mumps, whooping cough, has your child had?

(5) Has he any handicaps? What is being done to help?

(6) If your child has a handicap, how can the school help? Does your doctor recommend restricted activities?

IT IS VERY important that your child know the safe way to school. He should have a clear understanding of traffic rules that he must observe. If there is a traffic policeman on duty, be sure to teach your child the hand signals the policeman uses. If your youngster rides a school bus, teach him to board and leave it safely. Make sure he knows his name, address and telephone number.

Miss Martha J. Thomason, nutritionist of the Cook County department of public health had this advice for parents of children starting school. "An adequate breakfast is very important to the health of your child and to his participation in school activities. Allow enough time in the morning so the family can sit down and eat breakfast together. The school child's diet needs to be planned with special care to provide for proper growth and the many activities of childhood. To keep him going, he needs meat, eggs, fish or cheese, vegetables in wide variety, both raw and cooked, fruit, whole grain cereals and bread. Milk is important but not to the exclusion of other foods. Citrus fruit or between meal snacks for the young school child should consist of milk or fruit. Concentrated sweets and soft drinks can spoil appetites and food habits and may easily be detrimental to health."

"WHEN YOUR CHILD starts school, his days will have a new pattern. So will yours. There will be the business of getting him up and off in the mornge. It is even more important now that bedtime be regular. Plan "big" nights for Friday and Saturday. Ten or twelve hours of sleep a night are recommended for the school child. Your child may get by with less or need more. You can tell by the way he acts and by his general health," Dr. Hall said.

"If your child is healthy and you keep him helathy, his adjustment into school life will be made much simpler, and he will be happier," Dr. Hall concluded.

Q. I was recently introduced to a young man and since then he has tried several times to telephone me at my home, but every time I have been out. Would it be proper for me to telephone him?

A. It would be all right for you to phone him and say, "I hear you have been calling me. I'm sorry I was not at home."

In Appreciation

IN MEMORIAM

William Scheele — 1 year, July 19, 1956.
Our hearts still ache with loneliness.
Our eyes shed many a tear.
Only God knows how we miss you
As it ends this first sad year.
Rox and Erna Bolte (*

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, Dean W. Smith, who passed away 6 years ago, July 17, 1951.
I have lost my life's companion
I travel the world alone
God only knows how much I miss you
As I walk the road alone.

You have left a beautiful memory
And a sorrow too great to be told
But to me who loved and lost you
Your memory will never grow old.
May your soul rest in peace.
Broken-hearted wife,
Gertrude.

Prospect police departments for escorting the funeral procession in such an efficient manner.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

Music of the middle ages, written mainly in secular idiom to praise God and to express man's fears and hopes, has a directness and simplicity which makes it appealing to our modern ears. Experiences Anonymes, a new New York City disc firm specializing in ancient music, has just issued a superb 12-inch lp devoted to songs in praise of the Virgin Mary, composed by King Alfonso the Wise of Spain, who lived between 1221 and 1284.

Russell Oberlin, an excellent counter tenor, sings these exquisite songs with lute accompaniment. This type of voice is unique to us; the countertenor has a purity and range which at times reaches the soprano register; not since Handel's era have we had these singers. We applaud this enterprising firm for helping us to appreciate music from such an early time; it is music that has deep significance and beauty.

FOLK MUSIC, too, means much to us today in aiding us to appreciate the work of the pioneers, their struggles and labor to win the freedom we now take for granted. Moses Asch, son of the great novelist Sholem Asch, founded Folkways Records and Service corporation to build the largest catalog of discs providing music from every known land, from the Maori chants to voodoo ritual of Haiti.

Pete Seeger brings us a delightful 12-inch Folkways platter of "American Ballads," playing a 5-finger banjo as his own accompaniment; his songs include "The Farmer's Cust Wife," "Barbara Allen," and a wonderfully virile treatment of the classic "John Henry."

FOR A RED HOT, genuine Dixieland platter, we recommend Victor's 12-inches-Connee Boswell and the Original Memphis Five in Hi-Fi" (lpm-1426). Connee sings such jazz standouts as "When My Sugar Walks Down the Street," "Japanese Sandman," "My Honey's Loving Arms," "Pagan Love Song," "All of Me," and "When the Saints Go Marching In." With Miff Mole heading the fabulous quintet and Connee singing at her peak, it all adds up to a bright slice of entertainment.

From Angel records, don't miss Gian-Carlo Menotti's delightful madrigal opera, "The Uniform, the Gorgon and the Manticore," directed by gifted young Thomas Schippers; it's a poetic allegory whose moral is that we must keep the dreams of youth, manhood and old age for balance. Lyric music, enchantingly performed; and don't miss the breathtaking color portrait of the album cover!

INCIDENTALLY, you hi-fi addicts will cheer the invention of Tapetone Inc., the "Mus-et TV Tuner." By hooking it up to the audio of your TV set, you can project sound through your home hi-fi system, improving it vastly and making it possible to obtain good tape recordings from it.

In view of NBC's intended fall TV opera schedule (including the long-awaited Poulenc "Dialogue of the Carmelites"), this innovation is a valuable contribution to our musical enjoyment.
